City Sculpture Tour

Wellington takes street art to sophisticated, sculptural levels. Here's our hit list of the weirdest, most engaging and actually rather moving installations around the city.

Start Post Office Sq
Distance 2.8km
Duration One hour

1 Get started in windswept Post Office Sq, where Bill Culbert's SkyBlues twirls into the air.

2 At the Queens Wharf waterfront, Len Lye's Water Whirler whirrs crazily into life several times daily.

3 Detour onto the flotsamy City to Sea Bridge to check out the weathered wooden sculptures.

Take a Break Get your harbourside sugar-shot at Gelissimo Gelato (04-385 9313; www.gelissimo.co.nz; Taranaki Wharf, 11 Cable St; single scoop $5; 8am-5.30pm Mon-Fri, 10.30am-5.30pm Sat & Sun).

Classic Photo Lean into the breeze alongside Solace in the Wind.

4 Keep trucking along the wharf, past the naked bronze form of Max Patté's Solace in the Wind.

6 On Cuba St's pedestrian mall, the sly, sloshy Bucket Fountain exists solely to splash your legs.

7 Book-end your sculpture walk with Regan Gentry's brilliant Subject to Change, a ghostly outline of a demolished house.

5 At Courtenay Pl look left to check out the leggy form of the industrial-cinematic Tripod by Weta Workshop.

4 MOLLY NZ/SHUTTERSTOCK © 5 YUCHEUNG/SHUTTERSTOCK © 7 CHAMELEONSEYE/SHUTTERSTOCK ©