

Danube Bend
GO May, Jun & Oct

The map shows the outline of Hungary in a light orange color. Five specific locations are marked with black dots and labeled with their names and GO periods. The Danube Bend is in the northwest, Budapest is in the center, Northern Hungary is in the northeast, Lake Balaton is in the southwest, and the Great Plain is in the southeast. A legend at the bottom right indicates that the orange color represents 'Warm to hot summers, cold winters'.
