

POINT IMPERIAL TRAIL

A high-elevation hike through a charred old forest takes you to the expansive vistas of Point Imperial, the highest point on either rim of the Grand Canyon.

KEN PATRICK TRAIL

A challenging hike that winds through ravines and dark forests en route to Point Imperial.

WIDFORSS TRAIL

Named after an artist who devoted his life and work to the Grand Canyon, Widforss Trail is shaded with tall spruce, aspen, pine and fir trees, and leads to a magnificent canyon overlook.

NORTH KAIBAB TRAIL

Popular with mule riders and hikers alike, the steep North Kaibab Trail provides access deep into the canyon.

CLEAR CREEK TRAIL

Detour off the North Kaibab Trail to the scenic Clear Creek Trail, the most popular inner-canyon hike on the north side of the Colorado River.

CAPE FINAL TRAIL

Turn off from an extremely scenic drive to access this flat, easy hike to a sweeping view of lower Marble Canyon and Vishnu Temple.

CAPE ROYAL TRAIL

It's more of a walk than a hike, at the end of a long drive: one of the best overlooks at the Grand Canyon is accessible from the aptly named Cape Royal.
