

Want more Sleeping recommendations than we could ever pack into this little ol' book? Craving more detail – including extended reviews and photographs? Want to read reviews by other travellers and be able to post your own? Just make your way over to lonelyplanet.com/hotels and check out our thorough list of independent reviews, then reserve your room simply and securely.

SLEEPING

top picks

- Alvear Palace Hotel (p190)
- Art Suites (p190)
- Casa Bolívar (p186)
- Casa Las Cañitas (p191)
- Che Lulu Guesthouse (p193)
- La Cayetana (p183)
- La Otra Orilla (p191)
- Loft y Arte (p184)
- Cocker B&B (p186)
- Four B&B (p187)

SLEEPING

Buenos Aires' huge tourist boom, which began in 2002 after the Argentine peso plummeted, has seen the city's accommodation options increase exponentially to keep up with demand. A good range of international five-star hotels (such as Hilton, Park Hyatt and Four Seasons) already exists, and more are being built. Budget and midrange hotels are common, and many have upgraded their facilities. Boutique hotels and intimate guesthouses have mushroomed in neighborhoods like San Telmo and Palermo, and hostels are a dime a dozen. You shouldn't have trouble finding the type of place you're looking for, but it's a good idea to make a reservation beforehand – especially during any holidays or the busy summer months of November through February.

Many places will help you with transportation to and from the airport if you reserve ahead of time. The most expensive hotels will take credit cards, but cheaper places may not (or may levy a surcharge for them). Some kind of breakfast, whether it be continental or buffet, is included at most hotels, guesthouses and hostels; the same goes for internet access, wi-fi and air-con. It's always a good idea to ask beforehand if you need any amenity or service in particular.

The following accommodations are listed from most expensive to most affordable.

THE CENTER

Buenos Aires' center, along with being right in the middle of things, has the best range and largest quantity of accommodations in the city. Towards the north you'll be close to the popular pedestrian streets of Florida and Lavalle, as well as the neighborhoods of Retiro and Recoleta (and their upscale boutiques). The Plaza de Mayo area contains the bustling banking district and many historical buildings, and is within walking distance to San Telmo. During the day the whole area is very busy, but nights are much calmer as businesspeople flee the center after work. Don't expect creative cuisine in this area – for that you'll have to head to Palermo.

PANAMERICANO HOTEL & RESORT

Map pp62–3 Hotel $$$

☎ 4348-5000; www.panamericano.us; Carlos Pellegrini 551; d AR$1050; Ⓜ Línea C Carlos Pellegrini

Your finest moment at this five-star hotel will likely be looking down on Av 9 de Julio from the 23rd-floor solarium, fresh from a dip in the pool. The 360 good-sized rooms are supremely elegant, boasting ultramodern touches like designer toilets, electric curtain openers and safe boxes large enough for laptops (including a plug for them, too). Also on the premises are the highly-regarded restaurant Tomo I and an atmospheric smoking pub. Book online for big discounts.

CLARIDGE HOTEL Map pp62–3 Hotel $$$

☎ 4314-7700; www.claridge.com.ar; Tucumán 535; d AR$635; Ⓜ Línea B Florida

One of downtown BA's oldest and finest hotels, the Claridge also features a relatively grand entrance and lobby for the area, where space is at a premium. Rooms are truly elegant, with classical decoration and plush furnishings. Bigger suites come with Jacuzzis for soaking your tired feet after strolling up and down Florida, just a stone's throw away – or you can always splash into the lovely outdoor pool. Gym, sauna and good spa services are available.

562 NOGARÓ BUENOS AIRES

Map pp62–3 Hotel $$$

☎ 4331-0091; www.562buenosaires.com; Av Julio Roca 562; d AR$545; Ⓜ Línea E Bolívar

Elegant and sophisticated designs and earth-tone colors make this four-star hotel a hip, upscale choice in the Plaza de Mayo area. Bathrooms are small but sleek (boasting trendy raised sinks), and the atmospherically lit rooms feature hardwood

PRICE GUIDE

Despite inflation, Buenos Aires is still very good value compared to the USA or Europe.

$$$ over AR$380 a night

$$ AR$150-379 a night

$ under AR$149 a night