What are you most looking forward to on this trip?

Would you like to visit the Moon? Or do you think it might lack atmosphere?

STEPPING STONES
Map out your trip by writing the main places you’re visiting or those you would like to visit on these stepping stones.

Add more stepping stones yourself if you’re hopping from place to place.
Who or what will you miss while you’re away?

What are you bringing with you? List or draw the clothes, gadgets and other essentials in your suitcase or backpack.
How are you going to make sure your journey is fun-filled, not dullsville?

If you could travel through time, would you go forward or back?

Setting out is exciting but journeys can be long. Keep a note of your outward journey highlights here.

I saw...

I heard...

The funniest thing was...

If only I’d brought...

The weirdest thing was...

Next time I’ll...
Have you been happy today, whatever the weather?

Good or bad, the weather can be a sizzling surprise or a shivering shock. Put an X in a circle under one or more of these symbols each day. And make a note of the best and worst of the trip.

Sunny spells  Sunny  Cloudy
Rainy  Stormy  Windy  Snowy

Even if you stay at home, you will travel around the Sun each year.

You might stick to the same cereal at home, but on a trip meals can be seriously strange or truly delicious. Draw the best breakfast of your trip on the plate!

What was the first thing you saw when you opened your eyes this morning?

What do snowmen eat for breakfast? Frosted flakes!
THE VERDICT
What has been awesome about your trip? Write expedition high points around the stars below — the nearer the middle, the more you loved them. What will be your absolute highlight right in the middle? Food, friends, fun... or the book full of memories you're looking at right now?

Where are you going to go next time?
