

New South Wales & the Australian Capital Territory Trips

SOME OF AUSTRALIA'S MOST MEMORABLE EXPERIENCES AWAIT YOU

along the roads of its most populous state. Long the favourite of endearingly painted combis, NSW's coastline has always been one of the country's most popular road trips, connecting a string of quintessentially Aussie towns where the surfboard is king, from Batemans Bay to Byron. Leave the coast behind and a different world awaits, a land of hippie communities and the surprising stands of rainforest around New England, the stirring high country of Kosciuszko, and south to the wine region of Mudgee. And not far from Canberra, that underrated capital of a nation, the traffic thins and the colours turn to red and yellow in Bourke and Broken Hill and the profound silence of the outback reigns.
