Top Itineraries

Day One

San Telmo (p85)

 Stroll through this colonial neighborhood's cobbled streets and window-shop for antiques. Come on a Sunday, when the famous Feria de San Telmo street market takes over the neighborhood. Book a tour to the stunning El Zanjón de Granados for a peek into the city's origins.

Lunch Snag a sidewalk table at Bar Plaza Dorrego (p93) for great people-watching.

La Boca (p98)

 The colorful corrugated houses along El Caminito are indeed photogenic, though this area is a bit of a tourist trap. It's still fun, however; check out the souvenir shops and artists' paintings and perhaps catch a street-tango show. Art lovers shouldn't miss Fundación Proa, a cutting-edge gallery, while soccer fans can head to La Bombonera Stadium and visit the Boca team's Museo de la Pasión Boquense. But don't stray too far from the tourist hordes; La Boca is at times a sketchy neighborhood.

Dinner Reserve for Café San Juan (p92), serving exceptional international cuisine.

San Telmo (p85)

 If it's Wednesday or Sunday, take a tango class then watch the dancing and the live tango orchestra at Maldita Milonga. Or go drinking at one of the many great watering holes in the area, such as Doppelgänger, an upscale cocktail bar.

Day Two

Palermo (p127)

 Walk (or take a bike ride) along Palermo's Parque 3 de Febrero, where you can also visit a rose garden, botanical garden and Japanese garden. Bike paths are laced throughout.

Lunch Big Sur (p133) is great for a burger and a pint of craft beer.

Palermo (p127)

 Visit MALBA, a beautiful art museum showcasing the collection of art patron Eduardo F Costantini. The Museo Nacional de Arte Decorativo is another must-see; it's a beaux-arts mansion that once belonged to a Chilean aristocrat, and is full of his posh belongings. Finally, Evita fans can't miss Museo Evita, which chronicles the life of Argentina's most internationally famous woman.

Dinner For an excellent steak, get a table at Don Julio (p134).

Palermo (p127)

 Palermo is nightlife central. There are dozens of bars to check out, and people come from all over to dance at the famous clubs here. Begin with wine at Pain et Vin, a cocktail at Verne or craft beer at Bluedog or On Tap.

Puerto Madero

Day Three

The Center (p56)

 From leafy Plaza San Martín, walk south on pedestrian Florida and experience masses of people shopping, busking, selling or just power-walking to their next destination. You'll eventually come within a block of Plaza de Mayo, the heart of Buenos Aires. This historic plaza is surrounded by Casa Rosada, Catedral Metropolitana and Cabildo.

Lunch For outside seating and fresh offerings, try i Central Market (p74).

Puerto Madero (p70)

 Lined with renovated old brick warehouses, Puerto Madero is replete with fancy lofts and apartment towers, plus some of the city's most expensive (and some say overpriced) restaurants. It's a very scenic and pleasantly vehicle-free place to stroll the cobbled paths along the dikes. Art lovers shouldn't miss Colección de Arte Amalia Lacroze de Fortabat, highlighting the collection of Argentina's

Dinner Casual but excellent Peruvian can be had at Chan Chan (p82).

Congreso & Tribunales (p76)

 Take in an opera, ballet or classical-music show at Teatro Colón, Buenos Aires' premier theater. The traditional entertainment district of Avenida

Day Four

Recoleta & Barrio Norte (p111)

 Explore Recoleta's famous cemetery; you can wander for hours among the crumbling sacrophagi and marble angels. It's a veritable city of the dead, fascinating and mysterious; to seek out Evita's tomb, just follow everyone else.

Lunch Have empanadas at El Sanjuanino (p117), one of the area's few cheap eateries.

Recoleta & Barrio Norte (p111)

 Check out the Museo Nacional de Bellas Artes, Argentina's top classic-arts museum. Just north is Floralis Genérica, a giant metal flower whose petals open during the day and close at night (when the gears are working!). And if you've got the bucks, the city's most expensive boutiques are along Avenida Alvear, worth a stroll to eyeball some huge old mansions. Visit Museo de Arte Hispanoamericano Isaac Fernández Blanco and Palacio Paz, in nearby Re-wealthiest woman. For a shot of nature, visit Reserva Ecológica Costanera Sur.

Dinner Looking for the locals? Then head to classic Rodi Bar (p117).

tiro, if you like gorgeous palaces filled with antiques.

Retiro (p104)

 Time to drink up: Florería Atlántico is a basement speakeasy located within a flower shop selling cocktails and house-brewed gin, while

Our Story

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Dublin, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

Our Writer

Isabel Albiston

After six years working for the Daily Telegraph in London, squeezing in as many trips as annual leave would allow, Isabel left to spend more time on the road. A job as a writer for a magazine in Sydney, Australia was followed by four years living and working in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Isabel started writing for Lonely Planet in 2014, having been back in the UK just long enough to pack a bag for a research trip to Malaysia. She has contributed to five LP guides.
