AUTHOR THANKS

Carolyn McCarthy

I am indebted to the many locals, experts and travelers who shared their version of this paradise. Ignacio and Judit were Caribbean dream captains. Kind thanks to Ruth Metzel, Rainald, Carla Rankin, Jim Omer, Andrew, Andrea, Obadin and Koby, Alexandra Dennis, Daniel Smetana, Bobby and Katrina, Cherie and Reggie, taxi Karloz, KC, Douglas and Igua. Annie, Jennie, Iker, David and Rachel offered respite and support. Thanks guys. Hasta la proxima!

Greg Benchwick

Thanks to Cat and the crew at Lonely Planet, to my coordinating author, to Pipo in Managua, and my fearless and peerless travel companion Violeta Benchwick.

Joshua Samuel Brown

At the tail end of the fourth month of my fourth journey through Belize, I'd like to thank first and foremost the entire nation and everyone who calls it home, from the northern edge of Corozal to the remotest jungles of the furthest ruins of Toledo. As for individuals who have made this trip particularly worthwhile, in no particular order: my mad henchman of month one Dave Narby; Christopher and Celini in Toledo; Demian and Nicole in Belize City; David and Nikki in Dangriga; Jacki, Nick, John and Pam in Placencia; Matthew; Yosiah and Linda in Cayo and Gwyn in Corozal.

Special thanks to Misty for the last one and Bill K and Aimee for being a small part of yet another long, strange trip.

John Hecht

Many thanks to all the good folks in the Yucatán who helped make this wonderful journey possible. Special gratitude goes to commissioning editor Cat Craddock-Carrillo, coordinating author Carolyn McCarthy, Mexico coauthor Sandra Bao, the book's current and previous writers, Raul LiCausi, Pepe Treviño and my loyal buddy, el campeón. Last but not least, all my love to my wife, Laura, and a big hug for Carlos, the bravest person I've ever known.

Tom Spurling

Thanks to Cat Craddock-Carrillo for getting me to go around again. High fives to Luis and Jorge for hanging out like true professionals. To Rene, thanks for your kind advice, friendly company and that beach house. To Muzza and Matpat, great effort to get on board. Finally to Lucy, Oliver and Poppy, for supporting my absenteeism over the past 10 books, I love you all like loco.

Iain Stewart

I had incredible help in Honduras. In San Pedro, Juan Carlos and Tesla were outstanding company, and the book would be so much the poorer with out the efforts and friendship of Bobby by the lake; Julián in La Moskitia; David Sedat and Howard in Copán; Maria, Sandy Pereira and pals in Tegus; Adi in Roatán; UDC in Utila and the Instituto Hondureño de Turismo.

Lucas Vidgen

Thanks firstly to the Guatemalans, for making my adopted country such an amazing place to live, work and travel. To all the travelers and tourism people along the way, especially Brenda Orantes in Guate, Thomas Ansems in Lanquín and Geert Van Vaeck in Copán. In LP land, thanks to Jonathan Ricketson for whatever patience he has left with me and to all the greasemonkeys in the author pool – it's been quite a ride and the support was much appreciated.

Mara Vorhees

Muchas gracias to the many charming Ticos who lent a hand along the way, especially Jose and the extended Caldo family at Natural Paradise in Turrialba, and the Wierniks at Villa Yerbabuena in Monteverde. The hardest part about travel writing is balancing work life with family life. As such, my most heartfelt thanks go to my own family, for tolerating, encouraging and even participating in this adventure.
