OUR WRITERS

Amy C Balfour A Southerner, she's been visiting the Outer Banks since she was a child and never tires of running down Jockey's Ridge. Amy has authored or co-authored more than 15 books for Lonely Planet, including Hawaii and Southwest USA.

Michael Grosberg Thanks to an uncle and aunt's house upstate on the Delaware River in the southern Catskills, Michael has had a base from which to explore the region for two decades – that is, when he's not home in Brooklyn, NYC.

No matter his love for the city, getaways are necessary and he's taken every opportunity to travel far and wide.

Adam Karlin Born in Washington, DC and raised in rural Maryland, Adam has written close to 40 guidebooks for Lonely Planet, covering areas from the Andaman Islands to the Zimbabwe border, but the place he decided to settle is New Orleans, one of his favorite cities in the world.

Kevin Raub Kevin Raub started his career as a music journalist in New York, but he it for travel writing and moved to Brazil. Living outside the country, it's fair to say he immensely enjoyed gorging on Nashville hot chicken, Memphis BBQ, craft beer out the wazoo and various other unmentionables on his voyage through the Southern US. Follow him on Twitter (@RaubOnTheRoad).

Adam Skolnick Adam writes about travel, culture, health and politics for Lonely Planet, Outside, Men's Health and Travel & Leisure. He has co-authored 20 Lonely Planet guidebooks and blames the state of Kentucky for his growing bourbon dependency. You can read more of his work at www.adamskolnick.com, or find him on Twitter and Instagram (@adamskolnick).

Regis St Louis Regis grew up in a sleepy riverside town where he dreamed of big-city intrigue. He's lived all over the US, and has crossed the country by train, bus and car while visiting remote corners of America. Favorite memories from his most recent trip include crab feasting on Maryland's eastern shore and catching music jams in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia.

Karla Zimmerman As a life-long Midwesterner, Karla is well versed in the region's beaches, ballparks, breweries and pie shops. When she's not home in Chicago watching the Cubs, and writing, she's out exploring.

For this gig, she covered DC, where she never fails to shake hands with Racing Abe Lincoln at Nationals Park. Karla has written for several Lonely Planet guides to the USA, Canada, Caribbean and Europe.
