This is Europe

Whether you're cruising along the French Riviera, punting down the canals of Venice, speeding down the slopes of the Alps or sipping coffee in a Viennese cafe, Europe offers more iconic experiences than practically anywhere else on the planet.

History is undoubtedly one of Europe's major draws. From Neolithic sites and Grecian ruins to Gothic cathedrals and crumbling castles, taking a trip across Europe can feel like stumbling into the pages of a history textbook. While in many ways one of the world's most forward-looking regions, Europe's past inevitably informs its present and its future. Understanding this continent's turbulent history is essential if you want to get to grips with what makes it tick. Thankfully, there's no shortage of amazing museums to put it all into context, from the palatial Louvre and British Museum to Amsterdam's Rijksmuseum, recently reopened after a decade-long renovation.

Europe also understands the finer things in life. And it's never shy about letting you join in the party. It's a place where you can indulge your taste buds, stretch your muscles, shop till you drop and dance into the small hours – all in the same day, should you so desire. Best of all, the next country is never more than a quick trip away. In a few hours you could swap the glittering Mediterranean for Berlin's bars, Rome's ancient ruins or the Alps' snow-capped peaks. Few places on earth can offer such a wealth of experiences and adventures. But don't be in too much of a hurry; the journey is an essential part of what makes exploring Europe such fascinating fun.

Wherever you end up, you're in for an unforgettable trip. So bon voyage, sichere Fahrt, happy travels. And don't forget to send us a postcard.
