WRITER THANKS

Belinda Dixon

Researching a place is a real joint effort. It's the result of B&B, bar and hotel staff who share their recommendations; tourist office workers who share their knowledge; random strangers who share their time and countless kindnesses. Huge thanks to all. And, again to James Smart for the gig, LP's behind the scenes teams, and fellow authors for humour, wisdom and travellers' tales.

Oliver Berry

Thanks to James Smart for giving me the gig and for guidance and support along the way; to Kate Ardron, Justin Foulkes, Dave Jones, Kate Whinney, Grace Hickock and Sarah Fox for their tips and suggestions; to the team at Wild Card PR and Watergate Bay for north coast adventures; and to Susie and Gracie Berry as always for keeping the home fires burning. Special thanks to Rosie Hillier for accompanying me on my southwest adventures and for never failing to make me smile.

Fionn Davenport

A big thanks to all my new friends in Manchester for their sterling efforts in getting up to speed with an ever-changing city. Thanks to Laura for accompanying me on my research trips and to the editors at Lonely Planet who helped give shape to my scratchings.

Marc Di Duca

Big thanks to all who helped me throughout the Southeast, especially staff at the tourist offices in Sandwich, Eastbourne and Rye. Thanks also to my wife Tanya and sons Taras and Kirill for accompanying on some long days of research.

Damian Harper

Gratitude to all those people who offered assistance along the way and came up with tips and ideas: Fiona Jenkins, James Munroe, Jon Tyler, Daisy Harper, Amy Williams, Arlene Fraser, Sarah Andrews, Timothy Benjamin and Emma Rosalind. Thanks (and apologies) to anyone I may have overlooked.

Catherine Le Nevez

Cheers first and foremost to Julian, and to all of the locals, fellow travellers and tourism professionals who provided insights, inspiration and good times, especially to Ade Andrews. Huge thanks too, to Destination Editor James Smart, Senior Cartographer Mark Griffiths and everyone at LP. As ever, merci encore to my parents, brother, belle-sœur and neveu.

Isabella Noble

Cheers to everyone who helped out on the road. Big thanks to my talented co-authors, especially fellow Oxbridger Belinda Dixon for the 'healthy' competition. Thanks also to Ellie, Cathy, Rose and David in the Cotswolds; Becky, Doug, Ali and Christine in Oxford; and Elly for perfect Michelin-starred dining company. Extra special thanks to my favourite research assistants Sarah, Jack, Dan, Andrew and Paps.

Damian Harper

London Damian has been working largely full time as a travel writer (and translator) since 1997 and has also written for National Geographic Traveler, the Guardian, the Daily Telegraph, Abbeville Press (Celestial Realm: The Yellow Mountains of China), Lexion, Frequent Traveller, China Ethos and various other magazines and newspapers.

Catherine Le Nevez

Birmingham, the Midlands & the Marches; Newcastle & Northeast England Catherine's wanderlust kicked in when she roadtripped across Europe from her Parisian base aged four, and she's been hitting the road at every opportunity since, travelling to around 60 countries and completing her Doctorate of Creative Arts in Writing, Masters in Professional Writing, and postgrad qualifications in Editing and Publishing along the way. Over the past dozen-plus years she's written scores of Lonely Planet guides and articles covering Paris, France, Europe and far beyond. Her work has also appeared in numerous online and print publications. Topping Catherine's list of travel tips is to travel without any expectations.

Isabella Noble

Oxford, Cotswolds & Around Isabella's travels have taken her across India, South-east Asia, Australia, North America and Europe. She has lived in southern Spain and Melbourne, though she's now (loosely) based in London. Her work has also been published by lonelyplanet.com, the Hotelegraph, Hg2 | A Hedonist's Guide To, Virgin Atlantic, Emirates' Open Skies and Red Carnation hotels, among others.

Neil Wilson

Yorkshire Neil was born in Scotland and has lived there most of his life. Based in Perthshire, he has been a full-time writer since 1988, working on more than 80 guidebooks for various publishers, including the Lonely Planet guides to Scotland, England, Ireland and Prague. An outdoors enthusiast since childhood, Neil is an active hill-walker, mountain-biker, sailor, snowboarder, fly-fisher and rock-climber, and has climbed and tramped in four continents, including ascents of Jebel Toubkal in Morocco, Mount Kinabalu in Borneo, the Old Man of Hoy in Scotland's Orkney Islands and the Northwest Face of Half Dome in California's Yosemite Valley. Neil also wrote the planning chapters of this book.

OUR STORY

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Dublin, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

OUR WRITERS

Belinda Dixon

Cambridge & East Anglia, Bath & Southwest England Only happy when her feet are suitably sandy, Belinda has been (gleefully) travelling, researching and writing for Lonely Planet since 2006. Belinda also wrote the Understand and Survival Guide chapters. See her VideoBlog posts at <https://belindadixon.com>

Oliver Berry

Bath & Southwest England, the Lake District & Cumbria Oliver is a writer and photographer based in Cornwall. His first trip abroad was to the south of France, aged two. Since then he's travelled to Corsica, New Zealand, the South Pacific and the midwestern USA. Oliver first started writing for Lonely Planet in 2002, and has written for many titles including France, Great Britain, England, Western Europe, Rarotonga & the Cook Islands and South Pacific & Micronesia.

Fionn Davenport

Manchester, Liverpool & Northwest England Irish by birth and conviction, Fionn has been writing about his native country for more than two decades. He's come and gone over the years, pushed to travel in order to escape Dublin's comfortable stasis and by the promise of adventure, but it has cemented his belief that Ireland remains his favourite place to visit, if not always live in. These days, he has a weekly commute home to Dublin from Manchester, where he lives with his partner Laura and their car Trevor. In Dublin he presents Inside Culture on RTE Radio 1 and writes travel features for a host of publications, including the Irish Times.

Marc Di Duca

Canterbury & Southeast England A travel author for the past decade, Marc has worked for Lonely Planet in Siberia, Slovakia, Bavaria, England, Ukraine, Austria, Poland, Croatia, Portugal, Madeira and on the Trans-Siberian Railway.
