Why Go?

This craggily beautiful land retains some lingering scars from the heartbreaking civil war of the 1990s. But today's visitors will more likely remember Bosnia and Herzegovina (BiH) for its deep, unassuming human warmth and for the intriguing East-meets-West atmosphere born of fascinatingly blended Ottoman and Austro-Hungarian histories.

Major drawcards are the reincarnated antique centres of Sarajevo and Mostar, where rebuilt historical buildings counterpoint fashionable bars and wi-fi-equipped cafes. Elsewhere Socialist-era architectural monstrosities are surprisingly rare blots on predominantly rural landscapes. Many Bosnian towns are lovably small, wrapped around medieval castles and surrounded by mountain ridges or cascading river canyons. Few places in Europe offer better rafting or such accessible, inexpensive skiing.

When to Go

Sarajevo

Apr-Jun Beat the heat in Hercegovina; flowers bloom in Bosnia; peak-flowing rivers.

Summer Accommodation fills up in Mostar and Sarajevo. Calmer rivers in July suit rafting beginners.

Mid-Jan–mid-Sep Skiing gets cheaper after the New Year holidays.

Connections

Regular buses link major BiH cities to Vienna and to various Croatian and Serbian destinations. There's also a handy, little-publicised Trebinje–Dubrovnik service. Non-sleeper trains link Sarajevo to Zagreb, Belgrade and Budapest – the only direct overland link to Hungary.

ITINERARIES

Six Days

Arriving from Dubrovnik (coastal Croatia), roam Mostar's Old Town and join a day tour visiting Počitelj, Blagaj and the Kravice waterfalls. After two days in Sarajevo head for Jajce then bus down to Split (Croatia). Or visit Višegrad en route to Mokra Gora and Belgrade (Serbia).

Two Weeks

As above, but add Trebinje, spend some days skiing or cycling at Bjelašnica around Sarajevo, visit the controversial Visoko pyramid and old-town Travnik en route to Jajce, and consider adding white-water rafting in the Una Valley around Bihać.
