SEND US YOUR FEEDBACK

We love to hear from travellers – your comments keep us on our toes and help make our books better. Our well-travelled team reads every word on what you loved or loathed about this book. Although we cannot reply individually to your submissions, we always guarantee that your feedback goes straight to the appropriate authors, in time for the next edition. Each person who sends us information is thanked in the next edition – the most useful submissions are rewarded with a selection of digital PDF chapters.

Visit lonelyplanet.com/contact to submit your updates and suggestions or to ask for help. Our award-winning website also features inspirational travel stories, news and discussions.

Note: We may edit, reproduce and incorporate your comments in Lonely Planet products such as guidebooks, websites and digital products, so let us know if you don’t want your comments reproduced or your name acknowledged. For a copy of our privacy policy visit lonelyplanet.com/privacy.

OUR READERS

Many thanks to the travellers who used the last edition and wrote to us with helpful hints, useful advice and interesting anecdotes: Brian Feldman, Carmel Mackin, Craig Elliott, Deborah Santomero, Erika Passerini, Haley Sewell, Jonathan Del Mar, Jonathan Keohane, Kerry Poole, Matt Anness, Neil Harris, Paul Fisher, Rob McDonald, Robert Fairchild, Rolf Wrelf, Stefano Boffetta, Suzanne Tiller

WRITER THANKS

Gregor Clark
Sincere thanks to the many Sardinians who so generously shared their time, insights and love of place, particularly Mario and Frédérique in Nuoro, Daria in Santa Teresa, Simonetta in Olbia, Riky in Lotzorai, Laura in San Pantaleo, and Kevin and Rodolfo in Palau. Finally, hugs to my wife Gaen and daughters Meigan and Chloe, who always make coming home the best part of the trip.

Peter Dragicevich
It turns out that it’s not hard to find willing volunteers to keep you company on an extended research assignment in Venice, especially when it coincides with Carnevale. Many thanks to my Venice crew of Christine Henderson, Hamish Blennerhassett and Sarah Welsh for much masked fun and many good meals. Special thanks to Christine for the unpaid but much appreciated translation services.

Hugh McNaughtan
Thanks for the patience and support of Tasmin, Anna, my girls, the Lonely Planet tech team and the kind people I met in Italy, who made the research not just possible, but a pleasure.

Donna Wheeler
Thanks to Wayne Young, Elena Ciurletti, Gianluca Cannizzo, Emanuela Grandi, Stefano Libardi and the ultra-helpful Duparc Suites team for inspiring local knowledge. To Kathrin Mair, Verena Huf, Caroline Willeit, Antonella Arlotti, Virginia Ciraldi, Elena Boggio, Matteo Paini and Laura Sails, grazie for gracious, warm hospitality. Soprattutto, molto amore a Giuseppe Giuseppe Guario.

Nicola Williams
Grazie mille to those who shared their love and insider knowledge with me: in Rome Linda Martinez (The Beehive), Elyssa Bernard, tour guide Fiona Brewer, Sian Lloyd and Lorna Davidson (Roman Guy), Gina Tringali and Eleonora Baldwin at Casa Mia. In Tuscany, Manuele Giovanelli and Zeno Fioravanti, Doreen and Carmello at Florence’s Hotel Scoti, Georgette Jupe, Coral Sisk, Nardia Plumridge, Molly McIlwrath, Callin Swanson and Betti Soldi. Finally, kudos to my expert, trilingual, family-travel research team: Niko, Mischa and Kaya.

Cristian Bonetto
Mille grazie to Raffaele e Silvana, Joe Brizzi, Alfonso Sperando, Carmine Romano, Sylvain Bellenger, Federica Rispoli, the team at Cooperativa La Paranza, Vincenzo Mattiucci, Marcantonio Colonna and the many other friends and locals who offered invaluable tips and insight. At Lonely Planet, many thanks to Anna Tyler and my ever-diligent Italy writing team.

Kerry Christiani
Mille grazie to all the Sardinian locals, experts and tourism officials who made the road to research smooth and provided such valuable insight for the Planning and Understand chapters. Big thanks, too, to my fellow authors – Duncan Garwood and Gregor Clark – for being such stars to work with.

Marc Di Duca
A big grazie mille goes to the many tourist offices around the Veneto, especially those in Verona, Vicenza, Padua and Mantua, as well as to Antonio in Belluno. Also huge thanks to Ukrainian grandma and grandpa for looking after my two sons while I was in Italy, and to my wife for suffering my lengthy absences.

Duncan Garwood
A big thank you to Giacomo Bassi for his brilliant tips and suggestions. In Sardinia, grazie to everyone who helped and offered advice, in particular Luisa Besalduch, Agostino Rivano, Marianna Mascalchi, Valentina Sanna, Marco Vacca, and the tourist office teams at Alghero, Sassari and Castelsardo. At Lonely Planet, thanks to Anna Tyler for all her support. And, as always, a big, heartfelt hug to Lidia and the boys, Ben and Nick.

Paula Hardy
Grazie mille to all the fun and fashionable Venetians and Milanese who spilled the beans on their remarkable cities: Paola dalla Valentina, Costanza Cecchini, Sara Porro, Lucia Cattaneo, Monica Cesario, Francesca Giubilei, Luca Berta, Marco Scchic and Nan McNelroy. Thanks, too, to coauthors Regis and Marc for their contributions, and to Anna Tyler for all the support. Finally, much love to Rob for sharing the beauty of the bel paese.

Virginia Maxwell
So many locals assisted me in my research for this trip. Many thanks to Tiziana Babbucci, Fernando Bardini, Maricla Bicci, Niccolò Bisconti, Enrico Bracciali, Rita Ceccarelli, Cecilia in Massa Marittima, Stefania Colombini, Ilaria Crescioli, Martina Dei, Paolo Demi, Federica Fantozzi, Irene Gavazzi, Francesca Gentile, Francesca Gepetti, Maria Guarriello, Benedetta Landi, Freya Middleton, Alessandra Molletti, Sonai Pallai, Luigi Pagnotta, Valentina De Pamphilis, Franco Rossi, Fabiana Sciarno, Maria Luisa Scorza, Raffaella Sessi, Coral Sisk, Carolina Traddei and Luca Ventresa. Many thanks, too, to my travelling companions: Peter Handsaker, Eveline Zoutendijk, Max Handsaker, Elizabeth Maxwell, Matthew Clarke and Ella Clarke.

Kevin Raub
Thanks to my wife, Adriana Schmidt Raub, who probably can’t remember who I am at this point! Anna Tyler, Gregor Clark and all at Lonely Planet. On the road, Alice Brignani (always willing to wave her magic wand), Emanuela Boni, Barbara Candolofini, Francesca Soffici, Michela Iorio, Stefania Sala, Jen Wittman, Giovanni Pellegrini, Errica Dall’Ara, Claudia Valentini, Franca Rastelli, Sara Laghi, Maria Marini, Beatrice Morlunghi and Sviluppumbria, Ubaldo Casoli, Marta Paraventi, Lia Sciarra, Sabrina Pasqualoni, Valeria Gioldini and Maria Talamè.

Regis St Louis
I’m grateful to the countless tourist office staff, innkeepers, chefs, baristas, market vendors, store clerks, students and many other locals who provided helpful tips and advice along the way. Warm thanks to Cassandra and daughters Magdalena and Genevieve, who make this enterprise all the more worthwhile.

Kevin Raub
Emilia-Romagna & San Marino; Umbria & Le Marche Atlanta native Kevin started his career as a music journalist in New York, working for Men’s Journal and Rolling Stone magazines. He ditched the rock ’n’ roll lifestyle for travel writing and has written nearly 50 Lonely Planet guides, focused mainly on Brazil, Chile, Colombia, USA, India, the Caribbean and Portugal. Raub also contributes to a variety of travel magazines in both the USA and UK. Along the way, the self-confessed hophead is in constant search of wildly high IBUs in local beers.

Regis St Louis
Milan & the Lakes Regis grew up in a small town in the American Midwest – the kind of place that fuels big dreams of travel – and he developed an early fascination with foreign dialects and world cultures. He spent his formative years learning Russian and a handful of Romance languages, which served him well on journeys across much of the globe. Regis has contributed to more than 50 Lonely Planet titles, covering destinations across six continents. When not on the road, he lives in New Orleans.
Border-hopping is way of life for British writer, runner, foodie, art aficionado and mum-of-three Nicola Williams, who has lived in a French village on the southern side of Lake Geneva for more than a decade. Nicola has authored more than 50 guidebooks on Paris, Provence, Rome, Tuscany, France, Italy and Switzerland for Lonely Planet and covers France as a destination expert for the Telegraph. Nicola also wrote the Travel with Children chapter.

Cristian Bonetto
Naples & Campania
Cristian has contributed to more than 30 Lonely Planet guides to date, including New York City, Italy, Venice & the Veneto, Naples & the Amalfi Coast, Denmark, Copenhagen, Sweden and Singapore. Lonely Planet work aside, his musings on travel, food, culture and design appear in numerous publications around the world, including The Telegraph (UK) and Corriere del Mezzogiorno (Italy). Cristian also wrote chapters for Plan, Understand and Survival.

Kerry Christiani
Sardinia
Kerry is an award-winning travel writer, photographer and Lonely Planet author, specialising in Central and Southern Europe. Based in Wales, she has authored more than a dozen Lonely Planet titles. An adventure addict, she loves mountains, cold places and true wilderness. Kerry’s insatiable wanderlust has taken her to all seven continents – from the frozen wilderness of Antarctica to the Australian Outback – and shows no sign of waning. Her writing appears regularly in publications such as Adventure Travel magazine, and she is a Telegraph Travel expert for Austria and Wales. Kerry also wrote the Outdoor Activities chapter.

Marc Di Duca
Milan & the Lakes; Venice & the Veneto
A travel author for the last decade, Marc has worked for Lonely Planet in Siberia, Slovakia, Bavaria, England, Ukraine, Austria, Poland, Croatia, Portugal, Madeira and on the Trans-Siberian Railway, as well as writing and updating tens of other guides for other publishers. When not on the road, Marc lives between Sandwich, Kent and Mariánské Lázně in the Czech Republic with his wife and two sons.

Duncan Garwood
Rome & Lazio; Sardinia
From facing fast bowlers in Barbados to sidestepping hungry pigs in Goa, Duncan’s travels have thrown up many unique experiences. These days he largely dedicates himself to Italy, his adopted homeland where he’s been living since 1997. From his base in the Castelli Romani hills outside Rome, he’s clocked up endless kilometres exploring the country’s well-known destinations and far-flung reaches, working on guides to Rome, Sardinia, Sicily, Piedmont, and Naples & the Amalfi Coast.

Paula Hardy
Milan & the Lakes; Venice & the Veneto
Paula Hardy is an independent travel writer and editorial consultant, whose work for Lonely Planet and other publications has taken her from nomadic camps in the Danakil Depression to Seychellois beach huts and the jewel-like bar at the Gritti Palace on the Grand Canal. Over two decades, she has authored more than 30 Lonely Planet guidebooks and spent five years as commissioning editor of Lonely Planet’s bestselling Italian list. These days you’ll find her hunting down new hotels, hip bars and up-and-coming artisans primarily in Milan, Venice and Marrakesh.

Virginia Maxwell
Florence & Tuscany
Though based in Melbourne, Australia, Virginia spends at least three months of every year in Europe and the Middle East researching guidebooks and other travel-related content for a variety of publishers. She caught the travel bug during her first overseas trip to London, where she lived for a couple of years after finishing an Arts degree at university, and she’s been travelling regularly ever since. For the past 13 years Virginia has been working full-time as a travel writer and occasional book reviewer.
OUR STORY

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that’s all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they’d sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Dublin, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony’s belief that ‘a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse’.

OUR WRITERS

Gregor Clark
Sardinia, Sicily  Gregor is a US-based writer whose love of foreign languages and curiosity about what’s around the next bend have taken him to dozens of countries on five continents. Chronic wanderlust has also led him to visit all 50 states and most Canadian provinces on countless road trips through his native North America. Since 2000, Gregor has regularly contributed to Lonely Planet guides, with a focus on Europe and the Americas.

Peter Dragicevich
Venice & the Veneto  After a career in niche newspaper and magazine publishing, both in his native New Zealand and in Australia, Peter finally gave into Kiwi wanderlust, giving up staff jobs to chase his diverse roots around much of Europe. Over the last decade he’s written dozens of guidebooks for Lonely Planet on an oddly disparate collection of countries, all of which he’s come to love.

Hugh McNaughtan
Abruzzo & Molise; Puglia, Basilicata & Calabria  A former English lecturer, Hugh swapped grant applications for visa applications, and turned his love of travel in tro a full-time thing. Having done a bit of restaurant-reviewing in his home town (Melbourne) he’s now eaten his way across four continents. He’s never happier than when on the road with his two daughters.

Brendan Sainsbury
Born and raised in the UK in a town that never merits a mention in any guidebook (Andover, Hampshire), Brendan spent the holidays of his youth caravanning in the English Lake District and didn’t leave Blighty until he was nineteen. Making up for lost time, he’s since squeezed 70 countries into a sometimes precarious existence as a writer and professional vagabond. In the last 11 years, he has written more than 40 books for Lonely Planet from Castro’s Cuba to the canyons of Peru.

Donna Wheeler
Turin, Piedmont & the Italian Riviera, Trentino & South Tyrol; Friuli Venezia Giulia  Donna has written guidebooks for Lonely Planet for more than 10 years, covering regions across Italy, Norway, Belgium, Africa, Tunisia, Algeria, France, Austria and Australia. She is the author of Paris Precincts, a curated photographic guide to the city’s best bars, restaurants and shops, and is reporter for Italian contemporary art publisher My Art Guides. Donna also wrote the Art & Architecture chapter.
