GreenDex

Lonely Planet is committed to supporting responsible, sustainable travel. Each of our travel guides features a GreenDex, a list of businesses and organizations that minimize negative environmental impacts and, where possible, make positive contributions.

In our definition of “responsible and sustainable,” we include businesses that respect local cultures and traditions, and foster authentic interaction and greater understanding between travelers and hosts. Finally, we strive to highlight businesses that benefit host communities financially and that operate on the principles of fair trade.

Of course, finding operations that meet these criteria is an ongoing process, and there are bound to be businesses we miss. We welcome your input. If you know about a socially and/or environmentally responsible business that deserves a mention in this GreenDex, or if you feel a listing should be removed, let us know via www.lonelyplanet.com/feedback. And while you’re on the website, check out www.lonelyplanet.com/responsibletravel.
