Destinations

Nîmes & Around (p52)

A magnificient Roman amphitheatre, museums and markets compete for attention in this bustling commercial area.

Provence (p59)

With its picturesque lavender fields and delectable cuisine, Provence is a feast for the senses.

The French Riviera (p89)

Life's a beach in this idyllic region, as popular for its sun, sea and sand as it is for its arts scene.

NICOLA WILLIAMS

Originally from Britain, I've lived in France for over a decade. From my hillside house on the southern shore of Lake Geneva, it's a quick and easy motor to the Alps (call me a ski fiend...), Paris (art buff...), southern France (foodie...). I blog at tripalong.wordpress.com and tweet @Tripalong.

OUR WRITERS

OLIVER BERRY

My first trip to France was a family holiday to Provence at the age of two, and I've been back many times since while working on Lonely Planet's bestselling

France guide. I've covered nearly every corner of L'Hexagone on my travels, but I have an especially soft spot for Corsica and the Pyrenees. When not in France, I can usually be found wandering the beaches and clifftops of my home county, Cornwall. I'm also a regular contributor to many other websites, newspapers and magazines, including Lonely Planet Traveller. Check out my latest travels at www.oliverberry.com.

GREGOR CLARK

My first epic French road trip came on Bastille Day at age 20. Nearly broke and hitchhiking towards my next fruit-picking job, I landed a lift from a lost tourist and proceeded to spend the night winding through the fireworks-lit streets of every little village in Haute-Provence. To this day, I love nothing better than wandering France's back roads in search of hidden villages and unexpected treasures. I contribute regularly to Lonely Planet's European and South American guidebooks.

EMILIE FILOU

Emilie was born in Paris but spent most of her childhood holidays roaming the south of France. She now lives in London, where she works as a freelance journalist specialising in development issues in Africa. She goes to the Côte d'Azur every summer. See more of Emilie's work on www.emiliefilou.com: she tweets at @ emiliefilou

DONNA WHEELER

I've been visiting France for many years, but I really got to know the south when living just over the border in Turin. I'm the author of several Lonely Planet guidebooks and have published elsewhere on art, architecture and design, history and food. I'm also a creative consultant and travel experience planner. My Australian childhood was one epic coastal road trip, hunting down the best swimming spots and seafood dinners - something that stood me in good stead for this assignment.
