GOLDEN GATE PARK & THE AVENUES

Our Story

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born. Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Dublin, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

Our Writers

Alison Bing

Downtown, Civic Center & SoMa; North Beach & Chinatown; The Mission & Potrero Hill; Golden Gate Park & the Avenues; The Haight, NoPa & Hayes Valley

Alison has done most things travelers are supposed to do and many you definitely shouldn't, including making room for the chickens, accepting dinner invitations from cults, and trusting the camel to know the way. She has survived to tell tales for Lonely Planet, NPR, BBC Travel, the Telegraph, New York Times and other global media. Alison also wrote the Plan Your Trip and Understand San Francisco sections.

John A Vlahides

The Marina, Fisherman's Wharf & the Piers; Nob Hill, Russian Hill & Fillmore; The Castro & Noe Valley

John A Vlahides has been a cook in a Parisian bordello, luxury-hotel concierge, television host, safety monitor in a sex club, French-English interpreter, and he is one of Lonely Planet's most experienced and prolific guidebook authors. A native New Yorker living in San Francisco,

John has contributed to 18 Lonely Planet guidebooks since 2003, ranging from California and the western United States to the Dubai guide. He is co-host of the TV series Lonely Planet: Roads Less Travelled (National Geographic Adventure).

Sara Benson

Day Trips from San Francisco After graduating from college in Chicago, Sara jumped on a plane to California with one suitcase and just $100 in her pocket.

She landed in San Francisco, and today she makes her home in Oakland, just across the Bay. She also spent three years living in Japan, after which she followed her wanderlust around Asia and the Pacific before returning to the USA, where she has worked as a teacher, a journalist, a nurse and a national park ranger. To keep up with Sara's latest travel adventures, read her blog, The Indie Traveler (indie-traveler.blogspot.com) and follow her on Twitter (@indie_traveler) and Instagram (indietraveler).

Ashley Harrell

Day Trips from San Francisco After a brief stint selling day spa coupons door-to-door in South Florida, Ashley decided she'd rather be a writer. She went to journalism grad school, convinced a newspaper to hire her, and starting covering wildlife, crime and tourism, sometimes all in the same story. Fueling her zest for storytelling and the unknown, she traveled widely and moved often, from a tiny NYC apartment to a vast California ranch to a jungle cabin in Costa Rica, where she started writing for Lonely Planet. From there her travels became more exotic and farther flung, and she still laughs when paychecks arrive.
