

3 PERFECT DAYS

♥ DAY 1 // ANCIENT RELICS

Make an early start in Piazza Armerina (p238) and beat the coach parties to Villa Romana del Casale (p238). Once you've applauded the villa's extraordinary Roman mosaics, head out to Morgantina (p243) to investigate the ruins of an ancient Greek city. Spend the late afternoon exploring Piazza Armerina's historic centre (p241), making sure to head up the hill to the landmark cathedral (p241). Round the day off with a relaxed trattoria meal at Amici Miei (p242) or a more formal dinner at Al Fogher (p242).

♥ DAY 2 // CERAMICS IN CALTAGIRONE

Make your way to Caltagirone (p243), a delightful hilltop town known for its ceramics. Get into the swing of things by climbing the Scalinata di Santa Maria del Monte (p244) and inspecting the Museo della Ceramica (p245). Afterwards clear your head with a wander around the Giardino Pubbico (p245), a pretty shaded park with views over to Mt Etna. While away the rest of the day strolling through the attractive old town and admiring the fancy baroque churches.

♥ DAY 3 // ENNA AND THE HILLTOP TRAIL

Lording it over the hills and valleys of central Sicily, Enna (p232) is the king of the area's hilltop towns. Visit its impregnable Castello di Lombardia (p235) and the impressive Duomo (p235) before heading over the valley to Calascibetta (p232). Afterwards push on to Nicosia (p232), another handsome hilltop town, with a grand central square and 14th-century cathedral.
