AUTHOR THANKS

Charles Rawlings-Way

Huge thanks to Tasmin for the gig: it had been far too long since I'd experienced the South Pacific any closer than 39,000 feet above the waves. Thanks also to the all-star in-house LP production staff in London and Melbourne, and kudos to my island-addled crew of co-authors (dirty job, someone's gotta do it, etc). Special praise and adoration as always to Meg and our daughters Ione and Remy, who held the fort at home while I reported in from sundry remote islands with stories of coral reefs, sunsets and cold beers.

Brett Atkinson

Meitaki ma'ata to all the friendly Cook Islanders I met on my travels, especially Christian Mani, Nane Teokotai Vainepoto Papa and Daniel Fisher at Cook Islands Tourism in Avarua. On 'Atiu thanks to Mata Arai, Roger Malcolm, and Mareta Atetu, and to Tangata and Teata Ateriano on Ma'uke. Final thanks to Carol for sharing this latest South Pacific adventure with me – especially the mammoth tuna sandwiches, bush-bashing excitement and lazy sunset cocktails.

Jean-Bernard Carillet

Heaps of thanks to the editorial and cartography teams at Lonely Planet for their great job. Coordinating author Charles Rawlings-Way deserves a grand merci for his support, as does DE Tasmin for her support and guidance. In Tahiti, a special mention goes to my second family, the Peirsegaes in Mahina. In the Solomons, special thanks to Kerrie, Pam, Chris and Donaldson. And finally, once again a gros bisou to Christine and Eva.

Paul Harding

Many people helped with advice, information or just a good chat. Thanks in particular to Jack and Janelle, Kelson, Silas, Tom and Margaret, Sam and Helena, Sethrick and staff at Vanuatu Tourism Office in Port Vila. Thanks to Tasmin at Lonely Planet. Most of all, and as always, thanks to Hannah and Layla for your love and patience.

Craig McLachlan

A hearty thanks to everyone who helped me out on the road, but most of all to my exceptionally beautiful wife Yuriko.

Tamara Sheward

Fa'afetai tele and vinaka vaka levu to the wonderful folks of Samoa (Maria, Sophie, Jay, Killi and so many more), American Samoa (Fanua, Cita, Tom, Howard, et al) and Fiji (including superstars Miri, Lailanie, Alex and Viola). Frangipanis and South Sea smooches to my two crazy coconuts, Dušan and Masha.

Craig McLachlan

New Caledonia An island enthusiast from way back, Craig has covered such varying spots as the Greek Islands, Okinawa, Tonga, New Caledonia and Oahu for Lonely Planet. A Kiwi with a passion for exploring, he loves New Caledonia, in particular the Loyalty Islands and Île des Pins. A 'freelance anything', Craig has an MBA from the University of Hawai'i and is also a pilot, karate instructor, tour leader, hiking guide, Japanese interpreter and budding novelist. See www.craigmclachlan.com.

Tamara Sheward

Fiji, Samoa, American Samoa Despite a hearty dislike of heat and humidity – not to mention that pesky mango allergy – Tamara not only lives in the tropics, but enjoys travelling them extensively. While researching the South Pacific, she rode in 50-plus boats, 14 aeroplanes, umpteen rattly open-air buses and one submarine; alas, no similar tally was kept on kava and coconut consumption. In addition to the islands in this book, Tamara has covered a incongruous miscellany of countries for Lonely Planet, including Serbia, northern Australia, Bulgaria and Russia.

OUR STORY

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

OUR WRITERS

Charles Rawlings-Way

Coordinating Writer, Tonga, Other Islands As a likely lad, Charles suffered in school shorts through Tasmanian winters. Ice on the puddles, snow on Mt Wellington...he dreamed of one day exploring tropical isles in a more humane climate. After dropping a windsurfer mast on a Texan tourist's head in Fiji in 1985 and chasing rats around an Aitutatki guesthouse in 2005, a trip to see what Tonga had to offer was well overdue. Charles has penned 30-something Lonely Planet guidebooks, and remains pathologically fixated on the virtues and vices of travel.

Brett Atkinson

Rarotonga & the Cook Islands From his home in Auckland, Brett Atkinson has travelled to many of the islands in his South Pacific backyard. For this extended research trip to the Cook Islands, he snorkelled and scootered around Aitutaki, drank bush beer and organic coffee on 'Atiu, and explored Rarotonga on two and four wheels with his wife Carol. Brett has covered more than 50 countries as a guidebook author and travel and food writer. See www.brett-atkinson.net for his most recent work and upcoming travels.

Jean-Bernard Carillet

Easter Island, Solomon Islands, Tahiti & French Polynesia Paris-based journalist and photographer Jean-Bernard is a die-hard island lover and diving instructor. He has clocked up numerous trips to the South Pacific, including five assignments to the Solomon Islands. On this research gig, his favourite experiences included diving the WWII wrecks off Tulagi, spending a day in Saeraghi, exploring Marovo Lagoon on a dinghy, visiting Gwaunau'ru with a local chief. Jean-Bernard has contributed to many Lonely Planet titles, in French and in English. He also writes for travel and dive magazines.

Paul Harding

Vanuatu As a writer and photographer Paul has been travelling around Asia, Australia and parts of the Pacific for nearly two decades, examining beaches and islands along the way. Vanuatu stands out though for its remote islands, pristine waters, friendly faces and ancient traditional culture. On this trip Paul climbed a volcano, drank too much kava and braved rough seas in very small boats. He has contributed to some 50 Lonely Planet guides.
