Why Go?

A wonderland of painted wooden horses marching across green hills dotted with little cabins, central Sweden is such a perfect distillation of all the Swedish highlights it could almost be one of those Las Vegas theme parks. It's an easily explored area right in the middle of the country, so travellers on a tight schedule can see a lot of what makes Sweden so Swedish.

The Lake Siljan area, with its idyllic villages and evergreen forest, represents the country's heartland. Further north, the landscape gets wilder and more rugged, a teaser offering hints of Lappland and the far north. In between lies Sweden's industrial core – perhaps not glamorous, but illuminating and important.

Uppsala and Örebro are lively cultural centres with well-preserved historical buildings and great museums, dining, shopping and nightlife. Outdoorsy types will have plenty to do, too, from skiing and hiking to birdwatching and canoeing.

When to Go

Uppsala

Mid-Jun–Aug The weather's fine, accommodation prices are low and attractions are open.

Sep & Oct Many sights are closed, but the weather's fair and autumn leaves mean gorgeous scenery.

Dec–Feb Winter means bundling up, but central Sweden during the Christmas holidays is lovely.
