

Pacific Northwest Trips

GEOLOGICAL EVENTS OVER THOUSANDS OF YEARS HAVE DRAMATICALLY SHAPED THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST. Left behind are snowcapped mountain ranges, rocky islands, hundreds of waterfalls, natural hot springs and one particularly lovely gorge.

Because almost every drive in the Pacific Northwest is a scenic one, there's no better way to see it than by road trip. You can cruise along Oregon's epic coastline, explore the volcanic remnants of Crater Lake, go up the Inside Passage, or even travel in the footsteps of Lewis and Clark. We'll help you find all the great stops along the way, from historical sites to natural wonders to roadside attractions.

Classic Trip

46 Cascade Drive 4–5 Days
Wild West towns, Bavarian villages and moody mountains. (p571)

47 Olympic Peninsula Loop 4 Days
Tolkien meets Twilight in surreal, wet forest. (p581)

48 On the Trail of Lewis & Clark 3–4 Days
American pioneer history etched in stone, wood and interactive state parks. (p589)

Classic Trip

49 Highway 101 Oregon Coast 7 Days
Diversions include whale-watching, lighthouses and seafood. (p599)

50 Oregon Cascades Scenic Byways 4 Days
A nonstop parade of forests, lakes, waterfalls and mountains. (p613)

51 Crater Lake Circuit 1–3 Days
The very best route to get to Oregon's only national park. (p623)

52 Up the Inside Passage 4 Days
Travel aboard a scenic ferry to far-flung coastlines and gold-rush boom towns. (p631)

DON'T MISS

Cape Disappointment

Few leave Cape Disappointment disappointed, thanks to its spectacular, end-of-the-world setting. Check it out on Trip 48

Leavenworth

German theme towns rarely work in the US, but Leavenworth's alpine backdrop makes it look like the real deal in Trip 46

Cape Perpetua

The best view of the coast can't be seen from the highway; drive to the top of Cape Perpetua for gorgeous vistas on Trip 49

Ross Lake Resort

No wonder Kerouac loved this region with its cold, almost terrifying, beauty. Find this floating hotel on a wilderness lake with no road access on Trip 46

Proxy Falls

Oregon has waterfalls to spare, but one of the prettiest is Proxy Falls, accessed via an easy hike on Trip 50
