1 Barcelona The starting point of so many wonderful journeys and destination in itself, Barcelona is Spain’s most celebrated city. 🔄 6 hrs to the Pyrenees

2 Tàuull The pick of Catalonia’s Pyrenean hamlets, Tàuull has Romanesque churches and serves as gateway to a stunning national park. 🔄 4 hrs to Aínsa

3 Aínsa There are no more beautiful mountain villages than stone-built Aínsa, with its splendid panoramic views. 🔄 2-3 hrs to Sos del Rey Católico

4 Sos del Rey Católico Just when you run out of superlatives, you arrive in Sos del Rey Católico, the essence of a medieval mountain village. 🔄 6 hrs to San Sebastián

5 San Sebastián Beautiful beyond compare and Spain’s undisputed culinary capital, San Sebastián is worth at least two days...at least. 🔄 2 hrs to Bilbao

6 Bilbao A couple of days in Bilbao should allow enough time for the Guggenheim Museum Bilbao and some serious tapas indulgence. 🔄 2-3 hrs to Santillana del Mar

7 Santillana del Mar An impossibly picturesque place, Santillana del Mar is many visitors’ choice for Spain’s prettiest pueblo (village). 🔄 1-2 hrs to Cudillero

8 Cudillero Perhaps Spain’s loveliest fishing village, Cudillero lies close to some of the country’s finest beaches too. 🔄 5-7 hrs to Cabo Ortegal

9 Cabo Ortegal Wild, windswept and downright dramatic, the coast around Cabo Ortegal will simply take your breath away. 🔄 5-6 hrs to Santiago de Compostela

10 Santiago de Compostela The endpoint of many a pilgrim’s journey, Santiago has loads of charm, glorious architecture and fine food to enjoy at the end of this epic trip.