Athens Neighbourhoods

Gazi, Keramikos & Metaxourgio
This abandoned industrial precinct has been reborn by artist and bar and club owners into an uber-cool area to explore both day and night.

Monastiraki & Psyri
Busy Monastiraki and Psyri are some of the city's liveliest quarters, with the wonderful Ancient Agora to the south.

Filopappou Hill, Thisio & Petralona
Sweeping views of the Acropolis from Filopappou Hill, surrounded by the sedate and pleasant neighbourhoods of Thisio and Petralona.

Acropolis Area
Athen's crown is the Acropolis. This epic monument soars above the city, and on the hill's southern slopes, a fabulous modern museum holds its treasures.

Omonia & Exarhia
Omonia is home to the fabulous National Archaeological Museum, while nearby Exarhia has an interesting mix of students, activists, artists and immigrants.

Kolonaki
Kolonaki is an adjective as much as a district: chic, stylish, elite. For visitors, it’s also the location of several excellent museums and is a delightfully green area.

Syntagma & Plaka
Narrow streets, neoclassical mansions, Byzantine churches and tavernas, Plaka is ground zero for Athens tourism, while Syntagma is the heart of modern Athens.

Mets & Pangratiw
The attractive districts of Mets and Pangrati surround the Panathenaic Stadium, with unpretentious neighbourhoods and low-key-cool places to eat.
