Seattle Neighborhoods

Ballard & Discovery Park
You can commune with nature in Ballard’s numerous parks and chink glasses with beer aficionados in its bars and breweries.

Downtown, Pike Place & Waterfront
Downtown’s skyscrapers and department stores temper the brimming energy of one of the US’ biggest and oldest farmers markets.

Pioneer Square, International District & SoDo
Seattle’s oldest quarter offers handsome historic redbrick buildings and is home to the city’s Asian immigrant communities.

Fremont & Green Lake
Fremont is off-beat and bizarre and proud of it; Green Lake is prettier but more sober.

Belltown & Seattle Center
Culinary and musical invention characterize creative Belltown; entertainment venues and museums crowd the Seattle Center.

Queen Anne & Lake Union
Old money haunts Queen Anne’s gracious mansions; new money spurs the rapid development around Lake Union.

Capitol Hill & First Hill
Capitol Hill is brimming with exciting nightlife and restaurants, while First Hill’s antique architecture dazzles.

Georgetown & West Seattle
Art, beer and airplane memorabilia light up Georgetown; beaches, retro vinyl and fish ‘n’ chips illuminate West Seattle.
