BAN BO LUANG (THAILAND)
Formerly an important stop for trading caravans, today this Htin village in Nan Province boasts a remote and scenic location between the Lao border and two national parks.

NAM HA NATIONAL PROTECTED AREA (LAOS)
Laos’ first established National Protected Area is home to a rich tapestry of ethnic groups, award-winning ecotrekks and some of the last wild tigers in the Mekong region.

THAM KONG LOR (LAOS)
You’ll be glad to see the light at the other end of this extraordinary 7.5km-long river cave in Laos’ remote Khammuan Province.

HANG SAN DOONG (VIETNAM)
Deep inside Phong Nha-Ke Bang National Park, this spectacular cave is accessible only on hiking and camping trips offered by park rangers.

BAI HUONG (VIETNAM)
Just a short boat ride from the tourist mecca of Hoi An, this remote and beautifully situated fishing village in the Cham Islands now has a homestay program.

PHA TAEM NATIONAL PARK (THAILAND)
A cliff provides fantastic views of the normally vast Mekong River as it narrows to a wild, rocky channel. Trails into the park interior pass prehistoric wall paintings.

BOLAVEN PLATEAU (LAOS)
Mount a steel horse and ride past thundering waterfalls, remote minority villages and lush rainforests, then chill out in delightful backpacker retreat Tat Lo.

PRASAT PREAH VIHEAR (CAMBODIA)
Make the overland pilgrimage to this majestic mountaintop temple on the Thai border. Improving roads are making it more accessible than ever, so go now to beat the masses.

CHI PHAT (CAMBODIA)
This award-winning ecotourism project offers trekking, mountain-biking, kayaking and birdwatching in the lush Cardamom Mountains of the wild Koh Kong Province.
