

Are you ready for an adventure?
Two explorers, Marco and Amelia, are off on a desert adventure, and they've invited you to come, too!

The best explorers need to be ready for anything. Look at the list below and add stickers to the next page to get ready to go! Check the items off the list after you've stuck them on.

MARCO

AMELIA

A one-humped camel like this one is called a dromedary. Marco's got his sketchbook out to draw his new desert friend. Read on to find out how you can draw a cool camel too.

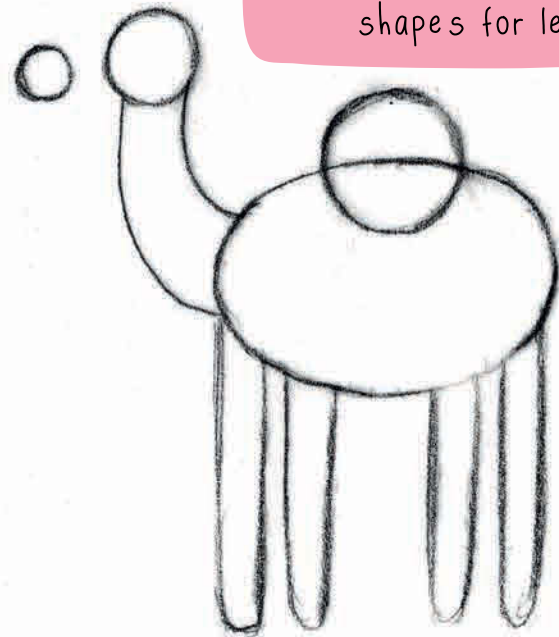

1

First, draw circles in pencil for the head, body, and hump.

2

Next, connect the head and body with a curved neck, and sketch in four sausage shapes for legs.

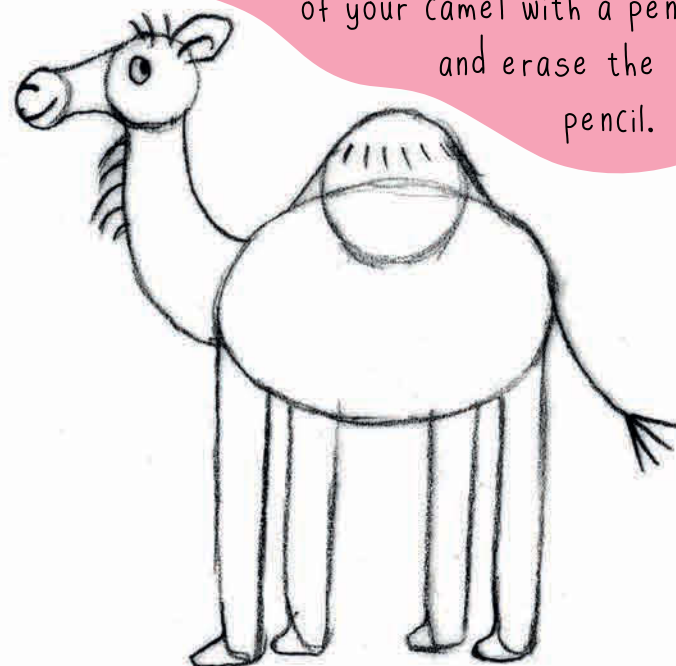

3

Join the head and nose, and add some detail, like the ears and the tail.

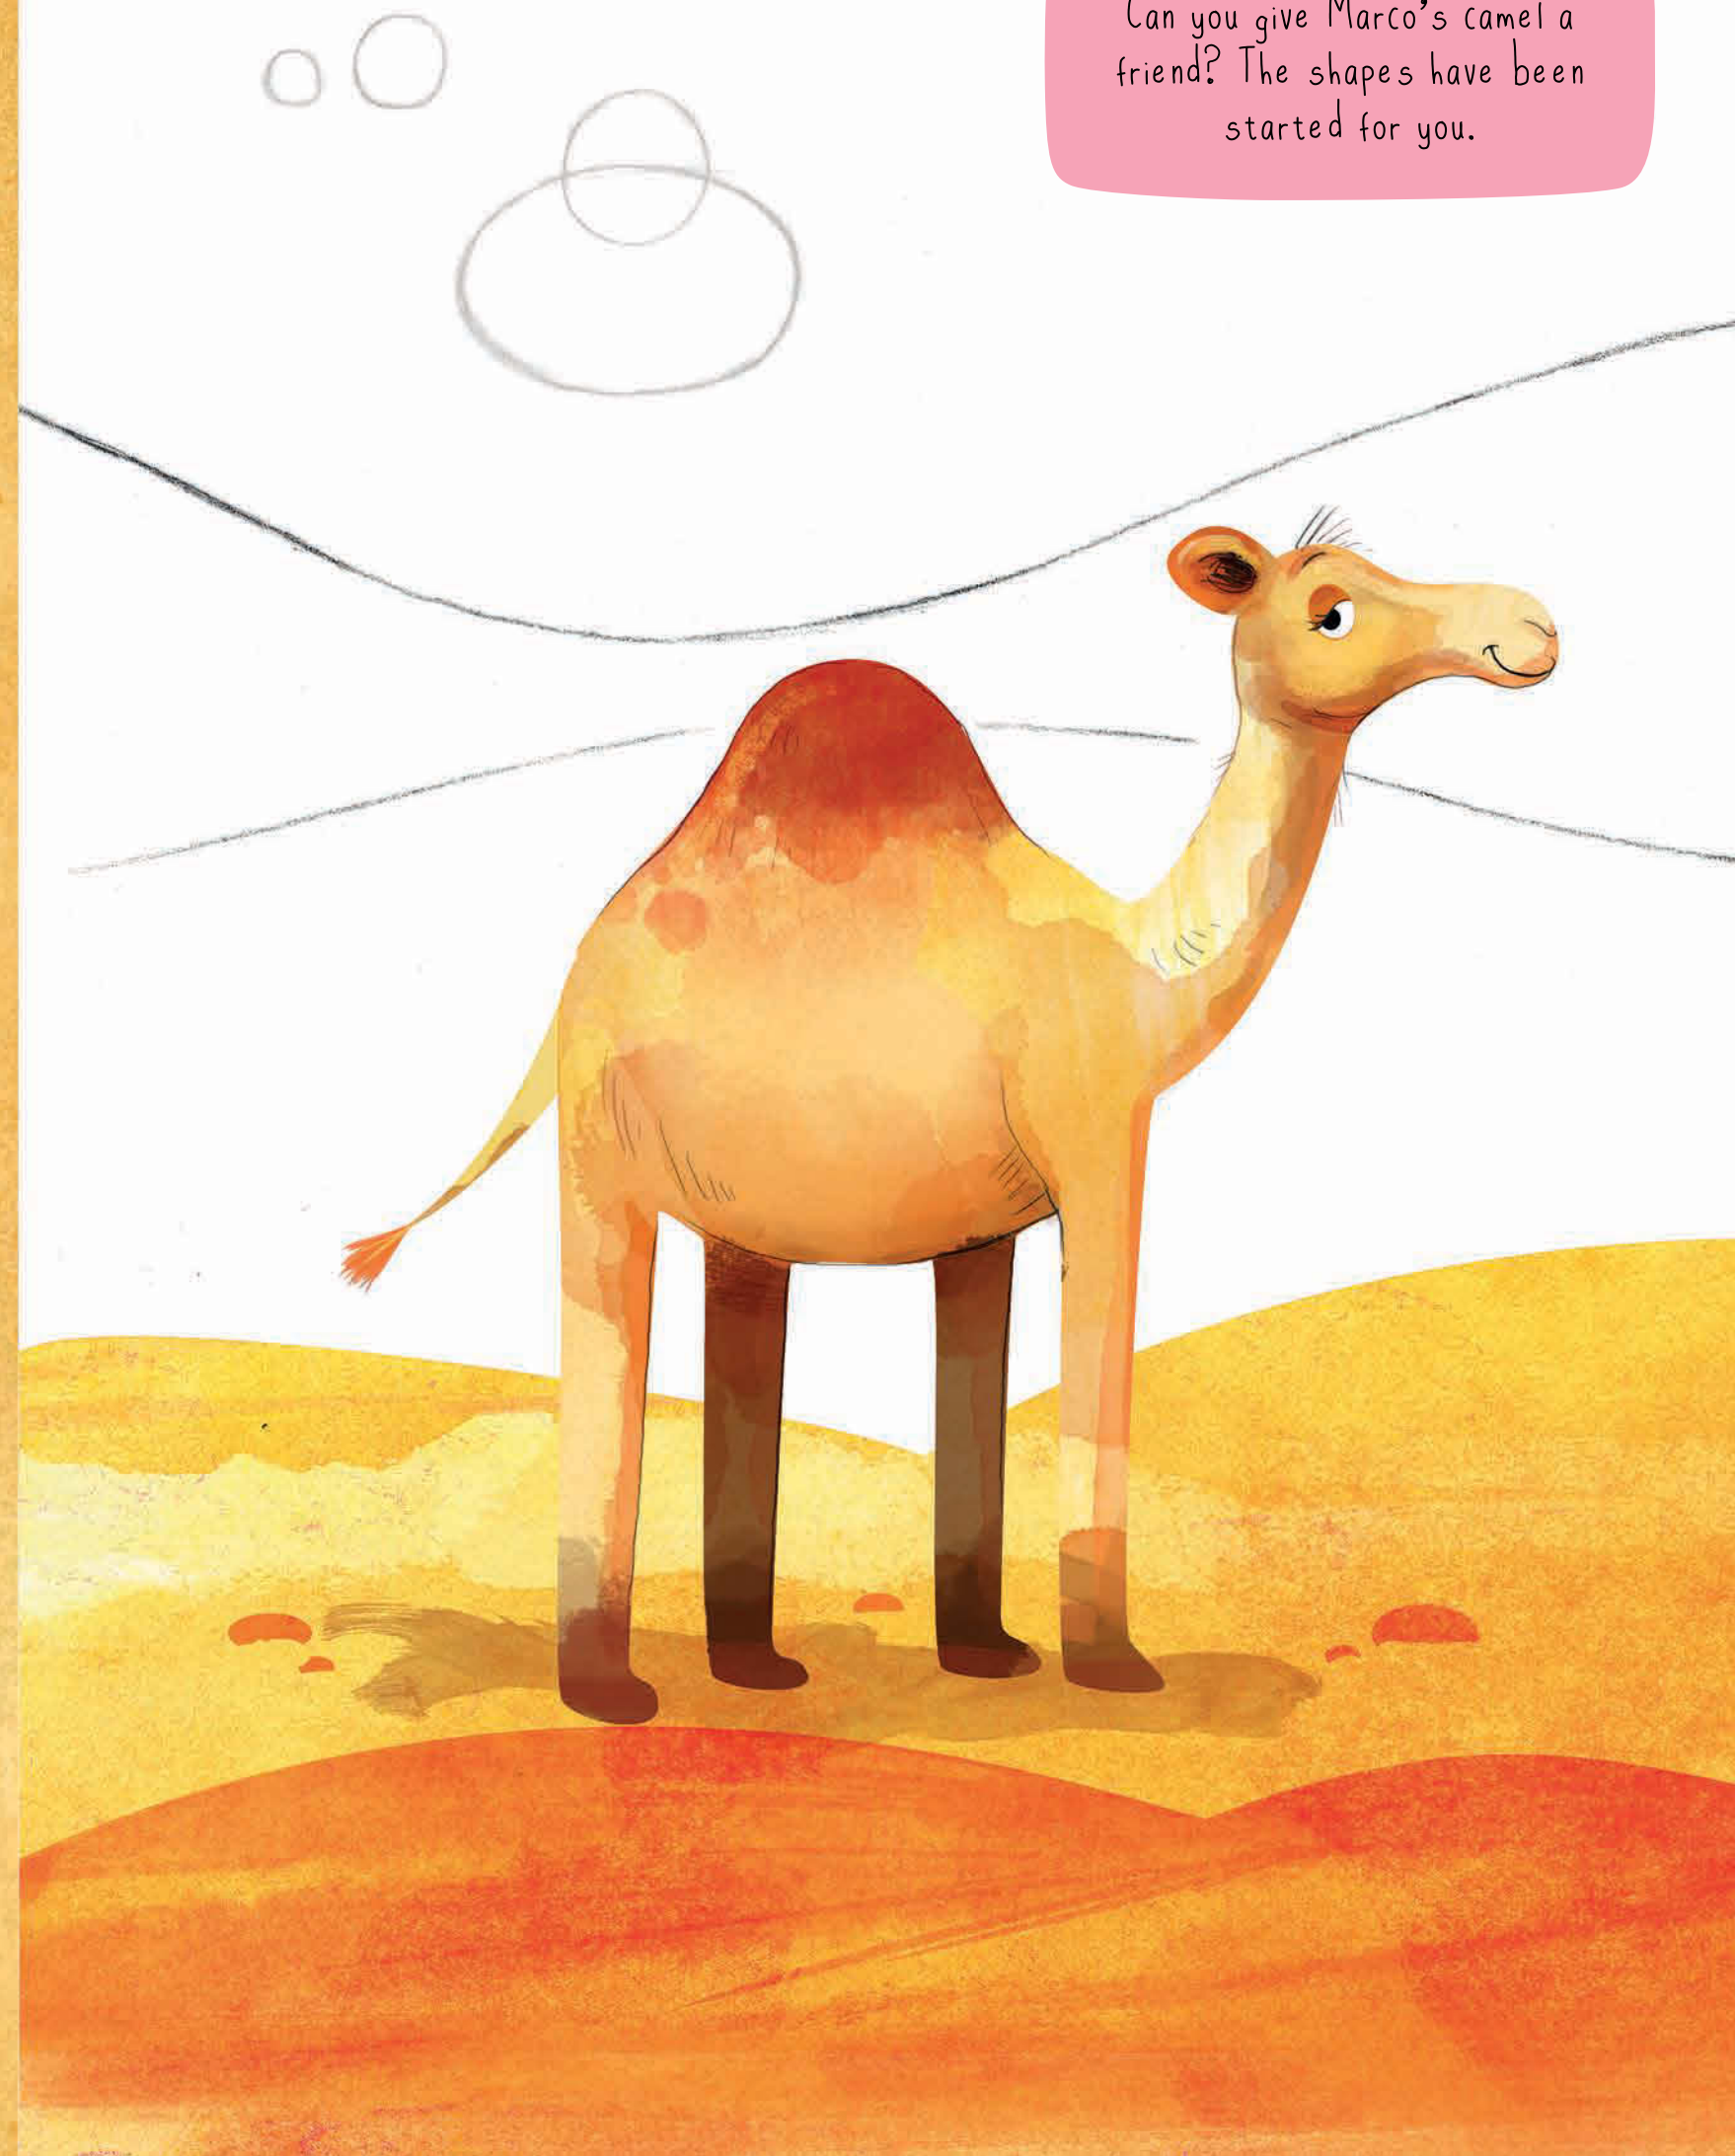

4

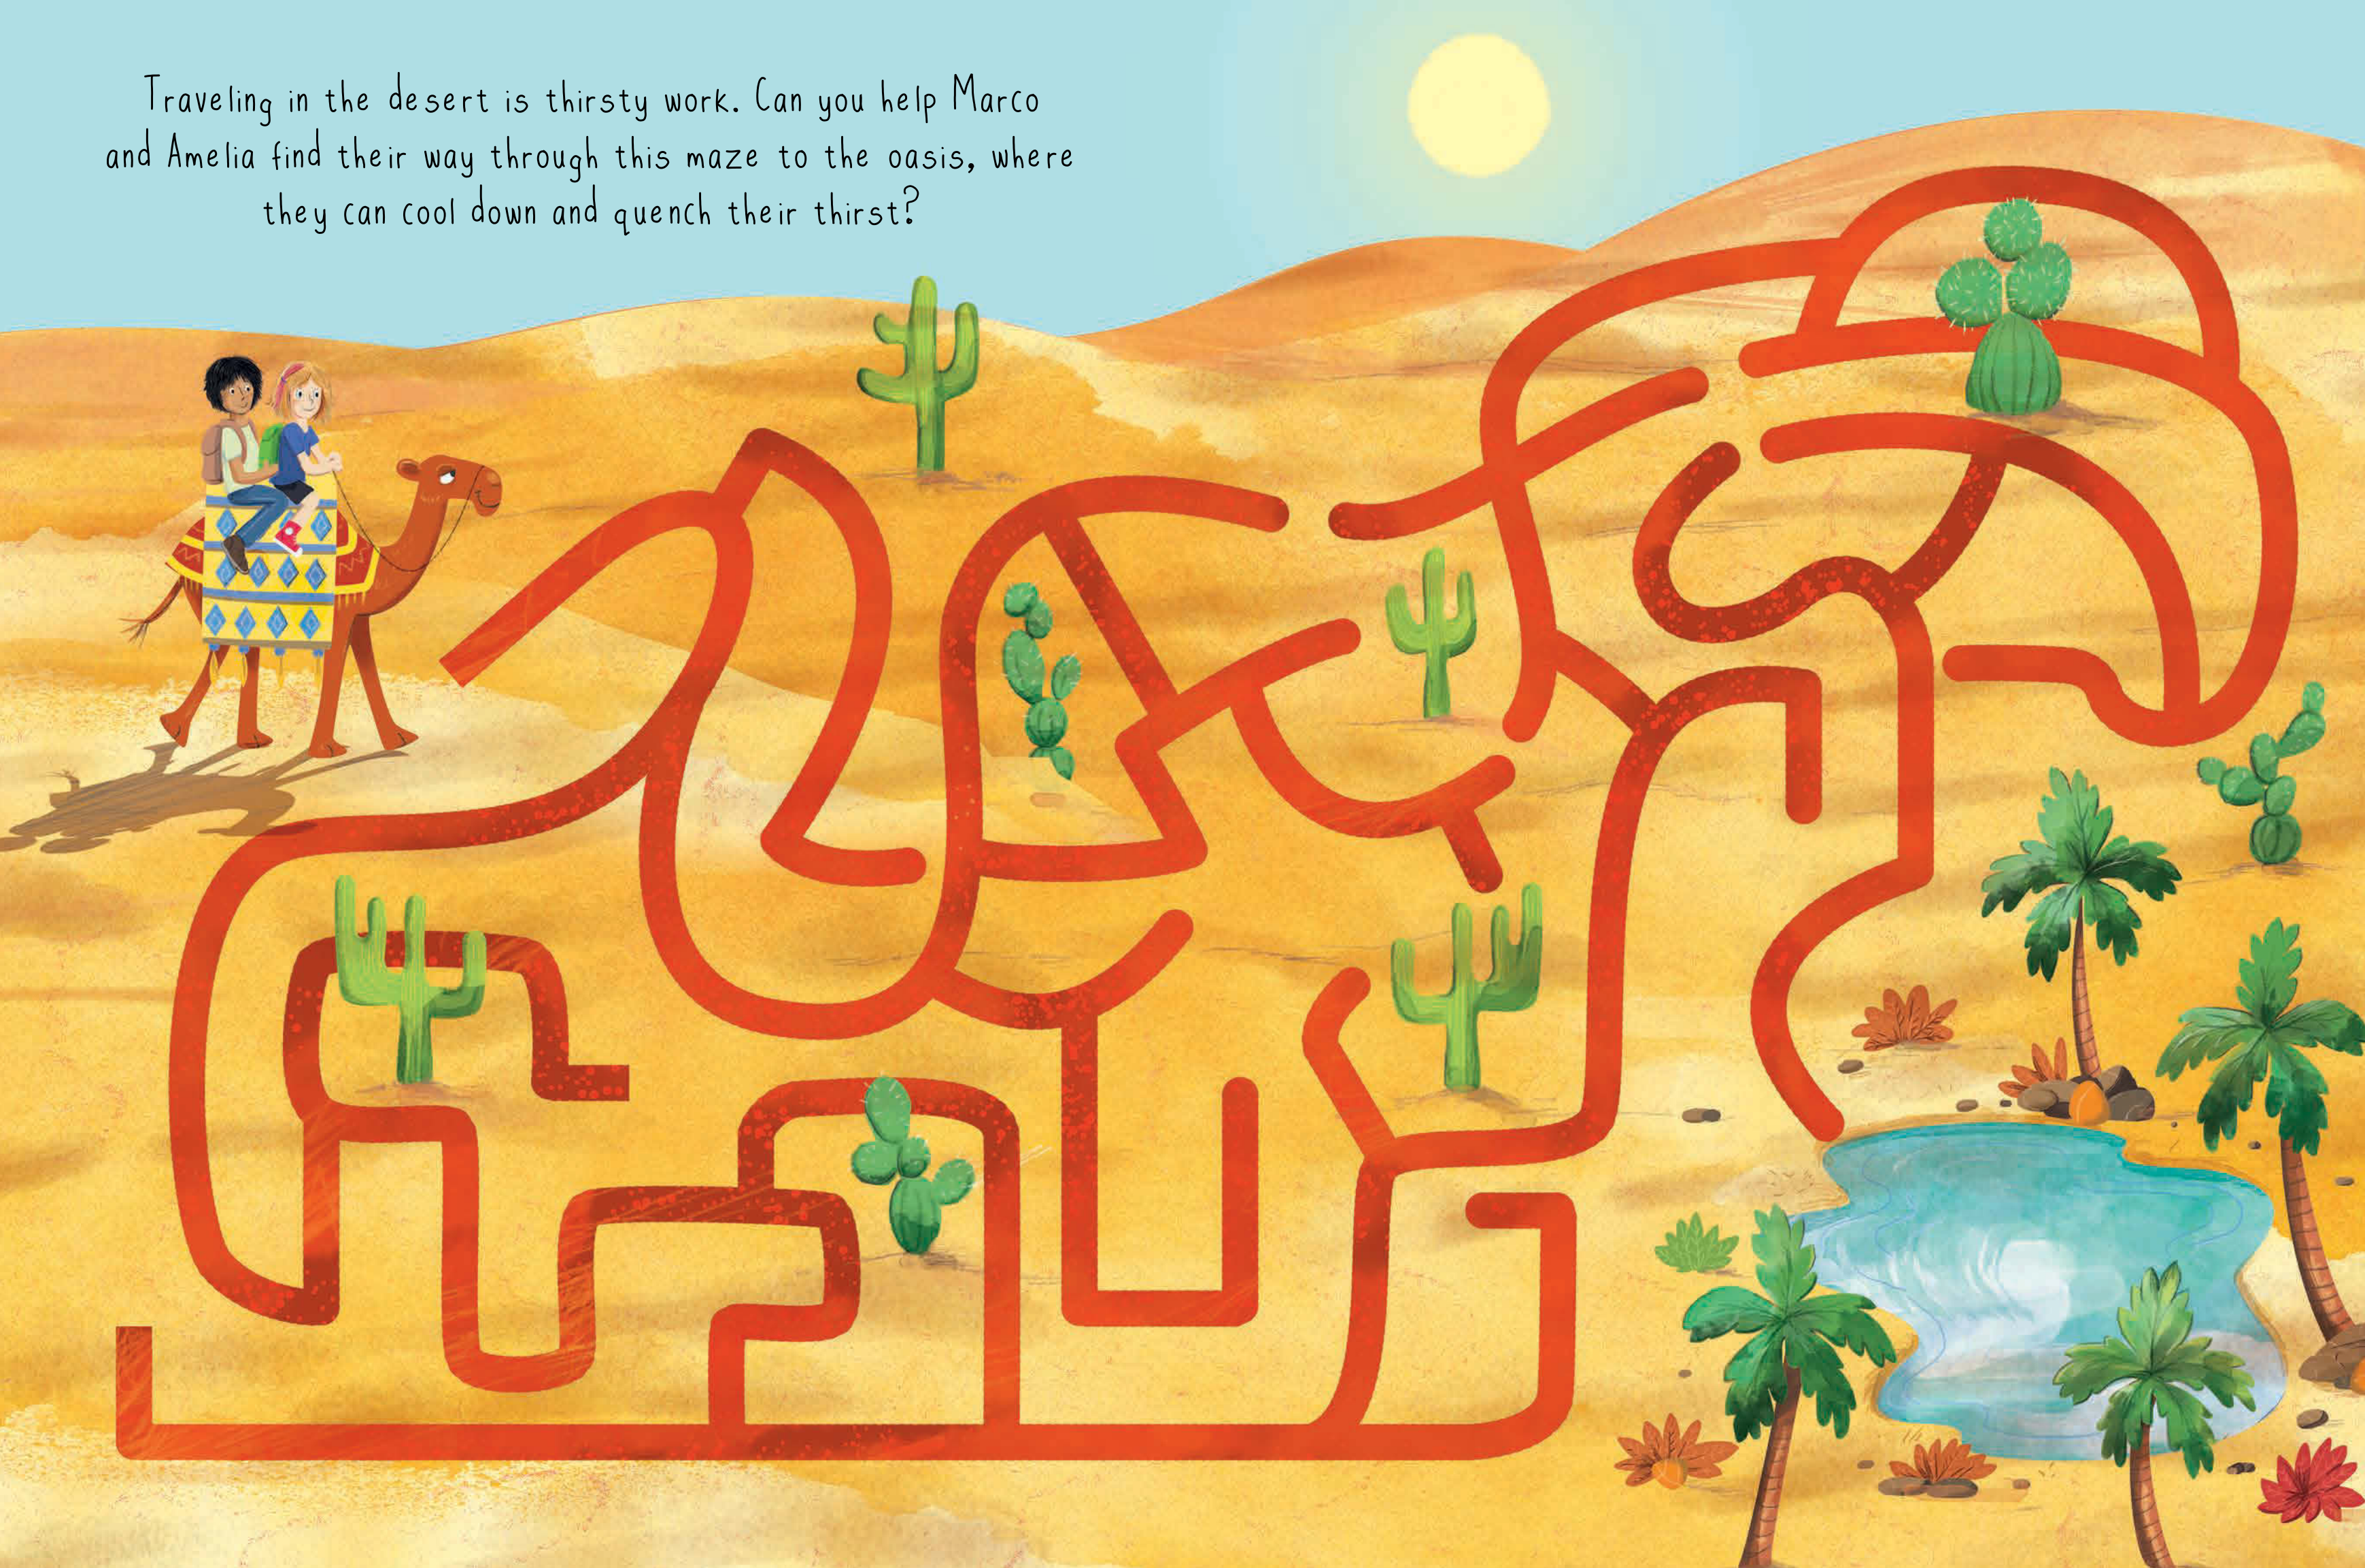

Add an eye and some more furry detail, then draw around the edges of your camel with a pen and erase the pencil.

Can you give Marco's camel a friend? The shapes have been started for you.

Traveling in the desert is thirsty work. Can you help Marco and Amelia find their way through this maze to the oasis, where they can cool down and quench their thirst?

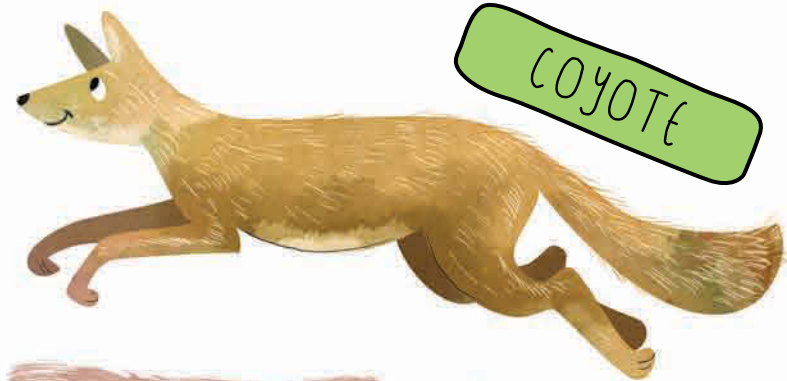

In Papunya, Australia, beautiful sand art is created by Indigenous communities at traditional ceremonies in the desert.

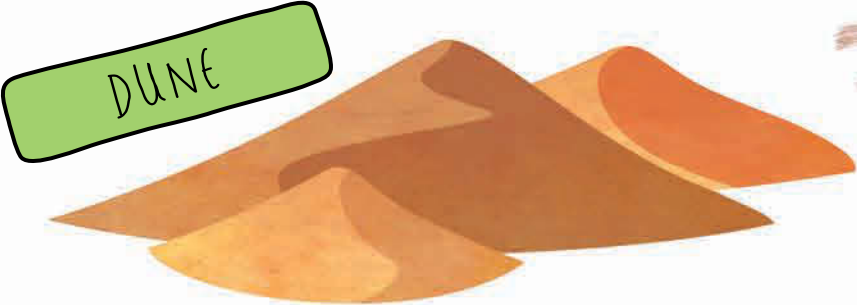

Complete the sandy scene by drawing your own swirling patterns in the sand.

Can you find these items from your desert adventure hidden in the grid below?
