Barcelona's Top 10

1

La Sagrada Família (p127)

1 One of Barcelona's icons, this Modernista masterpiece remains a work in progress more than 90 years after the death of its creator, Antoni Gaudí. Fanciful and profound, inspired by nature and barely restrained by the Gothic style, Barcelona's quirky temple soars skyward with a playful majesty. Stepping through its sculpted portals is like walking into a fairy tale, where a forest of columns branches towards the ceiling and light shimmers through brilliant stained-glass windows. Rich with beautifully wrought detail and packed with symbolism, the basilica invites hours of contemplation.

📍 La Sagrada Família & L'Eixample

New Catalan Cuisine (p31)

2 Barcelona's most celebrated chefs blend traditional Catalan recipes with new cooking techniques to create deliciously inventive masterpieces. Leading the way are Albert Adrià, the molecular gastronomy whizz behind a growing empire of restaurants, and Carles Abellan, who elevated the humble tapas to high art in his restaurants. The result: Barcelona has become one of the world's great culinary destinations. No matter where you go in the city, you won't be far from a memorable meal. And the critics agree: the city has more than 20 Michelin-starred restaurants.

Museu Picasso (p92)

3 For a portrait of the artist as a young man, head to the Museu Picasso, which showcases perhaps the world's best collection of the master's early work. Picasso lived in Barcelona between the ages of 15 and 23, and elements of the city undoubtedly influenced his work, from the colourful but simply painted frescoes hanging in the Museu Nacional d'Art de Catalunya to the imaginative trencadís-style mosaics (pre-Cubist some say) of Gaudí. The museum's setting – inside five contiguous medieval mansions – adds to the appeal.

📍 La Ribera

Modernista Architecture (p150)

4 Few cities are defined by their architecture to quite the same extent as Barcelona. The weird and wonderful undulations of Antoni Gaudí's creations are echoed in countless Modernista flights of fancy across the city. You'll find shimmering mosaics, wild details (in stained glass, iron and ceramic) and sculptural elements that reference nature, mythology and medieval days. Gateway to these astonishing architectural works is L'Eixample, which was a blank canvas for some of Spain's finest buildings in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. COLÒNIA GÜELL (P189)

Camp Nou (p173)

5 For the sports-minded, little can compete with the spectacle of a match at FC Barcelona's massive football stadium. With a loyal fan base and an incredibly gifted team led by superstar Lionel Messi, Camp Nou always hosts a good show; even if you can't make it to a game, it's still worth visiting. The 'Camp Nou Experience' is an interactive museum and stadium tour that takes you through the locker rooms and out on to the pitch – hallowed ground for many Catalans.

📍 Camp Nou, Pedralbes
 & La Zona Alta

Mercat de la Boqueria (p80)

6 This temple of temptation is one of Europe's greatest permanent produce markets. Restaurant chefs, home cooks, office workers and tourists stroll amid the endless bounty of glistening fruits and vegetables, gleaming fish counters, dangling rolls of smoked meats, pyramids of pungent cheeses, barrels of olives and marinated peppers, and chocolate truffles and other sweets. Dotted through the market are a handful of popular tapas bars serving up delectable morsels. There's almost always a queue, but it's well worth the wait.

 El Raval

Strolling La Rambla (p56)

7 Sure it's the most touristy spot in town, but you can't come to Barcelona and not take the 1.2km stroll down the famous pedestrian boulevard that stretches towards the sea. It's pure sensory overload – with a parade of people amid open-air cafes, fragrant flower stands, a much-overlooked mosaic by Miró and the rather surreal human sculptures. Key venues line both sides of the street, including the elegant Gran Teatre del Liceu, the sprawling Mercat de la Boqueria and several major galleries.

 La Rambla & Barri Gòtic

La Catedral (p60)

8 A masterpiece of Catalan Gothic architecture, La Catedral is rightly one of the first stops on any visit to the Ciutat Vella (Old City). You can wander wide-eyed through the shadow-filled interior, with a dozen well-concealed chapels, an eerie crypt and a curious garden-style cloister that's home to 13 geese (which are deeply connected with the mythology of Barcelona's co-patron saint, Santa Eulàlia). Outside, there's always entertainment afoot, from sardana (Catalonia's national folk dance) on weekends to periodic processions and open-air markets, and street musicians are never far from the scene.

Nightlife in Sant Antoni (p196)

9 Barcelona is a city known for reinvention, but none of its neighbourhoods has seen a regeneration as dramatic as that of the unremarkable grid of streets around the splendid old Mercat Sant Antoni. It started with the tentative opening of a couple of hip cafes on Carrer del Parlament, but over the last couple of years this has bloomed into a lively strip of bars and restaurants, with an influx of hipster pleasure-seekers and entrepreneurs, and this in turn has kick-started a slew of openings in surrounding streets. BAR CALDERS (P197)

Magical Montjuïc (p183)

10 When the temperature rises, head up the hill to Montjuïc for fresh air and breathtaking views over the city, best enjoyed from the dizzy heights of a cable car. At any time of year it makes for a great day out, with endless parkland, themed gardens and museums to suit every taste, whether your fire is lit by sport, art or ancient remains. If you have kids in tow, the kitsch wonderland of the Poble Espanyol is a must. CASTELL DE MONTJUÏC (P188)

MONTJUÏC, POBLE SEC & SANT ANTONI

Our Story

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Dublin, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

Our Writers

Sally Davies

La Rambla & Barri Gòtic, El Raval, La Ribera

Sally landed in Seville in 1992 with a handful of pesetas and five words of Spanish and, despite a complete inability to communicate, promptly snared a lucrative number handing out leaflets at Expo '92. In 2001 she settled in Barcelona, where her daily grind involves nose-to-tail eating, getting lost in museums and finding ways to convey the beauty of this spectacular city. Sally also wrote the Plan Your Trip, Understand Barcelona, Transport and Directory A–Z chapters.

Catherine Le Nevez

Barceloneta & the Waterfront, La Sagrada Família & L'Eixample, Gràcia & Park Güell, Camp Nou, Pedralbes & La Zona Alta, Montjuïc, Poble Sec & Sant Antoni

Catherine's wanderlust kicked in when she roadtripped across Europe from her Parisian base aged four, and she's been hitting the road at every opportunity since, travelling to around 60 countries and completing her Doctorate of Creative Arts in Writing, Masters in Professional Writing, and postgrad qualifications in Editing and Publishing along the way. Over the past dozen-plus years she's written scores of Lonely Planet guides and articles covering Paris, France, Europe and far beyond. Her work has also appeared in numerous online and print publications. Topping Catherine's list of travel tips is to travel without any expectations.

Isabella Noble

Day Trips

English-Australian on paper but Spanish at heart, Isabella has been wandering the globe since her first round-the-world trip as a one-year-old. Having grown up in a whitewashed Andalusian village, she is a Spain-specialist travel journalist, but also writes extensively about India, Thailand, the UK and beyond for Lonely Planet, the Daily Telegraph and others. Find Isabella on Twitter and Instagram (@isabellamnoble).
