

Guǎngdōng

POP 93 MILLION

Includes ➔

Guǎngzhōu	559
Fóshān	571
Kāipíng	572
Yángjiāng	576
Zhàoqìng	577
Qīngyuǎn	580
Shēnzhèn	581
Zhūhai	585
Cháozhōu	587
Méizhōu	590
Dàbù	592
Shàntóu	593

Best Places to Eat

- ➔ Guǎngzhōu Restaurant (p566)
- ➔ Zhèng's Private Kitchen (p588)
- ➔ Qīngyún Vegetarian Restaurant (p579)
- ➔ Dàbù Handmade Noodles (p591)
- ➔ Pànxi Restaurant (p567)

Best Places to Sleep

- ➔ Garden Hotel (p566)
- ➔ Shēnzhèn Loft Youth Hostel (p582)
- ➔ Zàiiyáng Inn (p588)

Why Go?

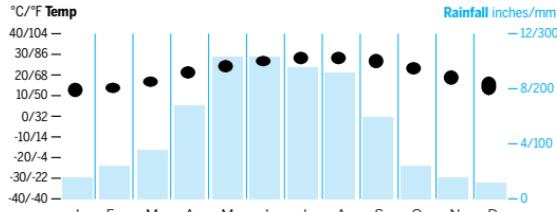

Guǎngdōng's unique culture and natural beauty fly under the radar and have yet to be discovered by many travellers, so you may have a plethora of sublime sights (not to mention great dim sum) all to yourself.

Northern Guǎngdōng (广东) is home to some wild and wondrous landscapes. In the blue pine forests of Nánlǐng, the music of waterfalls and windswept trees boomerangs in your direction. If it's Unesco-crowned heritage you're after, Kāipíng's flamboyant watchtowers and the stylised poses of Cantonese opera will leave you riveted. What's all the fuss about Hakka and Chiuchow cultures? Well, find out in Méizhōu and Cháozhōu.

Historically Guǎngdōng was the starting point of the Maritime Silk Road and the birthplace of revolution. On the scenic byways of the Pearl River delta, you'll uncover the glory of China's revolutionary past. While on the surf-beaten beaches of Hāilǐng Island, an ancient shipwreck and its treasures await.

When to Go

Guǎngzhōu

Apr–Jun Verdant paddy fields against the built wonders of Kāipíng and Méizhōu.

Jul–Sep Blue pines and stained-glass windows offer respite from summer.

Oct–Dec The typhoons and heat are gone; this is the best time to visit.

Guǎngdōng Highlights

- 1 Kāiping (p576) Climbing dramatic Unesco-crowned watchtowers.
- 2 Méizhōu (p590) Being awed by the crouching dragons of Hakka architecture.
- 3 Foshān (p572) Visiting the hometown of two martial-arts legends.
- 4 Guǎngjī Bridge (p588) Crossing the majestic passageway in Cháozhōu.
- 5 Guǎngzhōu (p559) Lunching in a garden-restaurant while listening to an operatic aria.
- 6 Cháiyáng (p592) Being mesmerised by the labyrinthine streets and stonied mansions of the old town.
- 7 Nánlíng National Forest Park (p580) Falling asleep to the whispered symphony of 800-year-old shipwreck.
- 8 Yángjiāng (p576) Visiting silken beaches and an 800-year-old shipwreck.

