

Auckland

📍 09 / POP 1.42 MILLION

Includes →

Sights	46
Activities.....	56
Tours.....	58
Festivals & Events	60
Sleeping.....	63
Eating	66
Drinking & Nightlife	74
Entertainment.....	76
Shopping	77
Hauraki Gulf Islands.....	81
West Auckland.....	94
North Auckland	99

Best Places to Eat

- Depot (p67)
- Ima (p68)
- Blue Breeze Inn (p71)
- Little Bird (p69)
- St Heliers Bay Bistro (p73)

Best Places to Stay

- Hotel de Brett (p63)
- Auckland Takapuna Oaks (p66)
- Verandahs (p64)
- 23 Hepburn (p64)

Why Go?

Paris may be the city of love, but Auckland is the city of many lovers, according to its Maori name, Tamaki Makaurau. Those lovers so desired this place that they fought over it for centuries.

It's hard to imagine a more geographically blessed city. Its two harbours frame a narrow isthmus punctuated by volcanic cones and surrounded by fertile farmland. From any of its numerous vantage points you'll be surprised how close the Tasman Sea and Pacific Ocean come to kissing and forming a new island.

Whether it's the ruggedly beautiful west-coast surf beaches, or the glistening Hauraki Gulf with its myriad islands, the water's never far away. And within an hour's drive from the city's high-rise heart, there are dense tracts of rainforest, thermal springs, wineries and wildlife reserves. No wonder Auckland is regularly rated one of the world's top cities for quality of life and liveability.

When to Go

- Auckland has a mild climate, with the occasional chilly frost in winter and high humidity in summer.
- Summer months have an average of eight days of rain, but the weather is famously fickle, with 'four seasons in one day' possible at any time of the year.
- If you're after a big-city buzz, don't come between Christmas and New Year, when Aucklanders desert the city for the beach en masse; the sights remain open but many cafes and restaurants close, some not surfacing again until well into January.

Auckland Highlights

- 1 Going with the flows, exploring Auckland's fascinating volcanic field (p57)
- 2 Getting back to nature on the island sanctuaries of the beautiful Hauraki Gulf (p81)
- 3 Being awed by the Maori taonga (treasures) of the Auckland Museum (p52)
- 4 Going west to the mystical and treacherous black sands of Karekare (p95) and Piha (p96)
- 5 Swimming with the fishes at Goat Island Marine Reserve (p104)
- 6 Schleppling around world-class wineries and beaches on Waiheke Island (p82)
- 7 Buzzing around the cafes, restaurants and bars of Ponsonby (p69)
- 8 Soaking up the Polynesian vibe at the Pasifika Festival (p61), held in March at Western Springs Park