Itineraries

WEEK

The Golden Triangle

One route is so well loved it even has a name: the Golden Triangle. This classic Delhi–Agra–Jaipur trip can be squeezed into a single week and gives a tantalising taste of the splendours of Rajasthan.

Spend a day or two in Delhi finding your feet and seeing the big-draw sights, such as the magnificent Mughal Red Fort and Jama Masjid, India's largest mosque. Then catch a fast train to Agra to spend a day being awed by the Taj Mahal and the mighty Agra Fort. Only an hour away is Fatehpur Sikri, a beautiful Mughal city dating from the apogee of Mughal power. It can be visited on the way to Bharatpur, in Rajasthan, where you can enjoy a natural respite from the cities at Keoladeo National Park, one of the world's foremost bird reserves. Having relaxed and recharged with nature, you can now take a train to Jaipur. Spend a couple of days in and around Rajasthan's hectic, dusky-pink capital, seeing the City Palace and Amber Fort and stocking up on blue pottery, dazzling jewellery and Rajasthani puppets before heading back to Delhi.

WEEKS

Royal Rajasthan

With a fortnight to spare, you can forget triangles and go all out for a multifaceted loop taking in Rajasthan's most spectacular cities, all erstwhile capitals of former princely states, boasting fairy-tale palaces and formidable fortresses.

You will most likely start from the nation's capital of Delhi to see the Mughal monuments, such as the massive Red Fort. No trip to India is complete without a visit to the Taj Mahal at Agra. Spend two days here viewing the Taj during the day, at night and from the maze-like Agra Fort. Spend a day exploring the ghost city of Fatehpur Sikri, before heading to Keoladeo National Park for birdwatching. Next stop is the pink city of Jaipur, where you will want to spend two or three days exploring the palaces of Jaipur and Amber and the shopping bazaars of the Old City.

From Jaipur, head to the sacred lake of Pushkar, where you can release your inner hippie or attend the camel fair. Move on to the romantic lake-town of Udaipur, visiting the rambling City Palace and the impressive Jagdish Temple as well as doing some shopping, relaxing on rooftops, and peering at the lake and its famous floating palace. From Udaipur, head towards the extraordinary, bustling, blue city of Jodhpur. Take time to stop at the milk-white Jain temple complex of Ranakpur and the isolated, dramatic fortifications of Kumbhalgarh – as they are fairly close together, you can visit them en route to Jodhpur within a day. In Jodhpur, visit the spectacular Mehrangarh, a fort that towers protectively over the city like a storybook fortress.

Next take an overnight train to the Golden City, Jaisalmer, a giant sandcastle in the desert, with its beautiful Jain temples and exquisite merchants' havelis (traditional, ornately decorated mansions). Take a short camel safari through the bewitching landscape of sweeping dunes and sleep under the stars. If you have the time on your way back to Delhi, break your journey with a stop in the desert city of Bikaner, home of the impregnable Junagarh Fort and nearest city to the famous rat temple of Deshnok. From Bikaner catch one of several trains back to Delhi.

WEEKS

A Month-Long Sojourn

A month will allow you to explore Delhi, Agra and Rajasthan to their fullest extent, with plenty of time to linger along the way whenever a particular destination takes your fancy.

After arriving in Delhi and exploring the city sights, take the train down to Agra to gaze at the picture-perfect Taj Mahal, explore Agra Fort and have a day trip out to the abandoned Mughal city of Fatehpur Sikri. To experience Rajasthan's wild side, head to the World Heritage-listed birdwatching paradise of Keoladeo National Park, where the sheer numbers of nesting birdlife will astound you. This can be followed by a tiger safari at Ranthambhore National Park, one of your best bets in all India for spotting a tiger.

Take a Kota-bound train southwest for a stop at the charming settlement of Bundi to explore the crumbling palace and its magical art. From here it is a short train ride to Chittorgarh where one of Rajasthan's most impressive fortresses occupies a mountain plateau. Next stop is Udaipur, where you can relax after your travels with a few easy days of sightseeing, elegant dining and souvenir shopping.

From Udaipur it's worth side-tripping to Mt Abu to see the extraordinary Delwara Temples before going north to Jodhpur. Alternatively, head north to Jodhpur, stopping on the way to see the magnificent fort at Kumbhalgarh and the Jain temples of Ranakpur. From Jodhpur it's an easy train or bus ride to Jaisalmer, the desert town with a romantic, picturesque fort rising from the golden sands. Here you can spend a few days exploring havelis and temples, before taking an overnight camel trek into the desert. After Jaisalmer, head east across the desert to Bikaner.

Travel south from Bikaner, stopping at the fascinating rat temple of Deshnok before coming to rest at the sacred pilgrimage town of Pushkar. At Pushkar you may be in time for the famous camel festival; otherwise, just put your feet up for a few days and soak up the serenity.

From Pushkar, it's a short hop to Jaipur, with its fabulous citadel at Amber and great shopping. Head north to Shekhawati for a few days, inspecting havelis at Mandawa, Nawalgarh and Fatehpur, before returning to Delhi.

WEEKS

Sacred Rajasthan

Temples abound in Rajasthan. These include Hindu and Jain edifices, plus mosques, gurdwaras and a scattering of churches. Here are some of the more noteworthy.

Starting in Jaipur, there's the popular Ganesh Temple that sees scores of worshippers every Wednesday. Other temples in Jaipur include the Govind Devji (Krishna) Temple inside the city palace, and Galta the 'monkey temple', swarming with monkeys.

Ajmer boasts one of the most important Sufi shrines in the world, the Dargah of Khwaja Muin-ud-din Chishti, and the fascinating Soniji Ki Nasiyan (Red) Temple; its unremarkable exterior hides a fantastical golden diorama depicting the Jain concept of the ancient world. Pushkar has one of the very few temples devoted to Brahma.

At Udaipur, the Hindu Jagdish Temple is always a riot of colour and fervent worshipping, while up at Mt Abu, the intricately carved Delwara Temples are Jain masterpieces. The Chaumukha Mandir in Ranakpur and Mahavira Temple in Osian can be visited on the way to Jaisalmer, whose fort shelters several finely carved Jain temples. Last on the list is Karni Mata, the rat temple of Deshnok, south of Bikaner.

Painted Shekhawati

The fabulous frescoes of Shekhawati can be scouted out in three or four days by moving between three or four of the region's towns. A bonus is the chance to stay in restored havelis once inhabited by prosperous traders, and to explore the backstreets on foot.

Nawalgarh is only a couple of hours' drive from Jaipur and offers accommodation ranging from thatch-roofed rural huts to grand and luxurious havelis. There's even a palace. Base yourself here to visit restored havelis and museums; don't forget to wander around and discover the fading gems on lesser-known, crumbling havelis.

From Nawalgarh head north to Mandawa. Mandawa can lay claim to the most accommodation options suited for travellers, including a grand castle, and it also has several havelis worth a look for their whimsical murals of 18th-century life.

West of Mandawa, is the dusty hamlet of Fatehpur, a town now famed for its restored Le Prince Haveli, where French artist Nadine Le Prince rejuvenated the frescoes and hosted visiting artists. It is now an inviting boutique hotel amid a town of deteriorating yet tantalising treasures.

Off the Beaten Track - Rajasthan

DESHNOK

The Karni Mata Temple (aka the Rat Temple) at Deshnok, 30km south of Bikaner, is not for the squeamish. The place is crawling with rodents ... and you have to remove your shoes to enter! (p146)

ALWAR

Busy Alwar doesn't see a lot of tourist traffic, despite its proximity to Sariska. Take the time to visit one of Rajasthan's more interesting museums. (p66)

DEEG

The extraordinary buildings and gardens that comprise Suraj Mahal's Palace are an insight into privilege and an easy detour between Bharatpur and Alwar. (p68)

OSIAN

The desert town of Osian, between Jodhpur and Jaisalmer, sees far fewer visitors than those tourist hotspots. Camel safaris to villages and dune campsites are authentic and stress-free. (p126)

PATAN

The tiny town of Patan lies off the main Delhi-Jaipur highway and is about halfway between them. The former palace has been restored into a relaxing rural retreat where you can escape the frenzy. (p71)

AUTHOR THANKS

Lindsay Brown

Thanks to all the folks who assisted me throughout my travels in Rajasthan. I am very grateful to Satinder, Ritu, Raj, Dicky and Kavita in Jaipur, Anoop and Bunty in Pushkar, Nikhil and Atush in Jodhpur, Ravindra in Ranthambhore, Harsh in Bikaner, Vikram in Jaisalmer, and Keshav and Manish in Bundi. Special thanks to Jenny.

Bradley Mayhew

Thanks to Rouf in Rinagar; Anil and Ramesh Wadhwa in Agra; Zaheer Bagh in Kargil; Juma Malik and Tashi of Hidden North in Leh; Harish and Michael Schmid in Varanasi. Thanks to Carolyn for keeping me company in Varanasi.

Daniel McCrohan

Love, hugs and kisses to my amazingly patient wife, Taotao, and two incredible children, Dudu and Yoyo; and to mum for helping out so much. At LP, huge thanks to Joe for trusting in me, and to my fellow writers, especially Abi, Isabella, John, Bradley, Mark and Kevin. In Delhi, a big thank you to Pradeep, Shahdutt, Pash, Catriona and Paula (amessing!), and of course to Nick, and to Dilip and his beautiful family, for being such wonderful hosts.

Sarina Singh

Gratitude to the many readers who wrote to us with their feedback and travel experiences. At Lonely Planet, thanks to Joe for being such a delightful editor; to my fellow co-writers; and to everyone involved in this book's production. Finally, warm thanks to my parents for always being so fantastic.

Sarina Singh

After finishing her business degree Sarina bought a one-way ticket to India where she met an aspiring photographer who asked her to write a paragraph for one of his photos in the hope he could get it published. The magazine asked Singh to turn her 100-word 'caption' into a 3000-word feature, and so began her accidental writing career. After five years in India she returned to her home town of Melbourne to pursue postgraduate studies. Sarina has written on 50 Lonely Planet titles, including more than 10 editions of India; four editions of Rajasthan, Delhi & Agra and three editions of South India. She has also written for dozens of other international publications such as the UK's Sunday Times and the USA's National Geographic Traveler. Find her on Twitter @sarina_singh and www.sarinasingh.com.

OUR STORY

A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that's all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they'd sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born.

Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Dublin, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony's belief that 'a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse'.

OUR WRITERS

Lindsay Brown

Rajasthan Lindsay started travelling as a young bushwalker exploring the Blue Mountains west of Sydney. Then as a marine biologist he dived the coastal and island waters of southeastern Australia. He continued travelling whenever he could while employed at Lonely Planet as an editor and publishing manager. Since becoming a freelance writer and photographer he has co-authored more than 45 Lonely Planet guides to Australia, Bhutan, India, Malaysia, Nepal, Pakistan and Papua New Guinea.

Joe Bindloss

Joe first got the travel bug on a grand tour of Asia in the early 1990s, and he's been roaming around its temples and paddy fields ever since on dozens of assignments for Lonely Planet and other publishers, covering everywhere from Myanmar and Thailand to India and Nepal. Joe was Lonely Planet's destination editor for the Indian subcontinent until 2019. See more of his work at www.bindloss.co.uk.

Bradley Mayhew

Agra & the Taj Mahal Bradley has been writing guidebooks for 20 years. He started travelling while studying Chinese at Oxford University, and has since focused his expertise on China, Tibet, the Himalaya and Central Asia. He is the co-writer of Lonely Planet guides to Tibet, Nepal, Trekking in the Nepal Himalaya, Bhutan, Central Asia and many others. Bradley has also fronted two TV series for Arte and SWR, one retracing the route of Marco Polo via Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Central Asia and China, and the other trekking Europe's ten most scenic long-distance trails. Bradley has also written for Rough Guides, has contributed chapters to Silk Road: Monks, Warriors & Merchants and is a co-writer of Insight Guide's Silk Road.

Daniel McCrohan

Delhi Daniel is a British travel writer who specialises in Asia and who has authored more than 40 guidebooks for Lonely Planet and Trailblazer. His expertise lies in China and India, but he has written guides to countries right across the continent, including Mongolia, Russia, Tibet, Thailand and Bangladesh. He also has written numerous British walking guides. Daniel has been a guest speaker at international travel shows, and was a co-host on the Lonely Planet television series Best in China. He speaks Chinese fluently and Hindi badly, owns three cycle rickshaws and never uses cars. Find him on Twitter (@danielmccrohan).
