If time is not on your side, you can still explore jungles, temples and Thai culture – all of which are within easy reach of Bangkok.

After a quick look around the major temples and markets in the capital, and hitting its top restaurants, embark on the wonderfully scenic train ride to Kanchanaburi. Here, enjoy a dip in the seven-tiered Erawan waterfall before visiting the Hellfire Pass Memorial, a poignant tribute to the thousands of prisoners of war who died making the Death Railway during WWII. The nearby forests are ideal for adventure activities or outdoor excursions, such as ziplining over the forest canopies or cruising along the River Kwai.

Next, jump in a minivan bound for Ayuthaya and cycle around the impressive ruins of this erstwhile capital. Finally, head over to Khao Yai National Park, transiting through Pak Chong. Spend a day hiking through the jungle in search of elephants and tigers, and a night camping under the stars before winding your way back to Bangkok.
Thanks to expanded domestic air travel in the kingdom, you can zip from the mountains to the city to the beach with ease.

Start off in Bangkok, where you can master the public transit system, visit the gleaming temples of Wat Phra Kaew and Wat Pho, explore the shopping centres and party like a rock star. Getting lost in Bangkok is an under-appreciated pastime, and neighbourhoods like Chinatown have people-packed streets where you’ll see the weird and the wonderful.

Fly (or take the scenic train) to Chiang Mai, which can keep you busy for several days with its Thai cooking classes, temples, monk chats, markets and fabulous food. Take a road trip to the surrounding countryside, where you can hike to hill-tribe villages and zipline through the forest. Don’t forget to visit the cool highlands of Doi Suthep or Doi Inthanon, two famous northern mountains.

Ready for the beach? Take a direct flight from Chiang Mai south to the tropical island of Ko Samui, where you can choose to live it up in a five-star resort or villa, or relax in a low-key beach bungalow in one of the island’s quieter corners (yes, some still exist).

Make a day trip to uninhabited Ang Thong Marine National Marine Park before a stop at Ko Pha-Ngan, an easy boat trip from Ko Samui. Head to one of its famous Full Moon Parties, or time your visit to miss the crowds and enjoy laid-back hammock hanging instead. Virtually next door is tiny Ko Tao, Thailand’s diving-certification headquarters; there are plenty of shallow reefs near the shore for snorkellers, too.

Head back to Samui to fly on to your next destination, or make your way back to Bangkok for some last-minute shopping.
Top: Chinatown (p81), Bangkok
Bottom: Ang Thong National Marine Park (p577)
Hitting all of Thailand’s top beaches in one trip isn’t easy, but some serious island-hopping means you can do it and still have bags of hammock time. This trip takes you there by land and sea, but if you need to hurry up, hop on a flight along the way.

From Bangkok, dip south into Hua Hin, an upmarket resort town where all the top hotel chains have a spot on the beach. Then on to Prachuap Khiri Khan, where you can hire a bike and check out the undulating coast, bays and laid-back beach scene.

Now for some island time, first stop Ko Tao (via Chumphon). Sign up for a dive course or enjoy a few days of snorkelling before island-hopping to Ko Pha-Ngan for Full Moon Party fun or an other-side-of-the-island escape. Retire to the resort island of Ko Samui for some pampering (or, if you have the energy, more partying), from where it’s a short ferry ride to transport hub Surat Thani. Buses leave hourly for Khao Sok National Park, where you can enjoy some jungle time in one of the world’s oldest rainforests before making the short transfer to Khao Lak, a sleepy beach resort that serves as the perfect base for dive trips to the world-famous Similan Islands and, to the north, the Surin Islands. Consider spending a few days on a live-aboard to linger in the underwater world full of rays, sharks and seahorses. Once you surface, go south to Phuket – Thailand’s largest island – and gulp down the numerous attractions and activities on offer here (don’t miss a day trip to Ao Phang-Nga).

From Phuket, jump on a boat bound for Ko Phi-Phi, a party island that stays up all night and still looks fantastic in the morning. From here you can head back to the mainland and explore the gorgeous coastline of Krabi (be sure to take a long-boat to Railay beach, regarded as one of the finest in Thailand) or ferry straight to Ko Lanta to collapse in a hammock and drink in the bucolic island life. Continue south by ferry past the beautiful Trang Islands to increasingly popular but still relatively undeveloped Ko Lipe, and catch a speedboat back to the mainland when you’re ready to begin your journey home.
A fully rounded trip to Thailand meanders through almost every corner of the kingdom. If you need to save time, hop on a flight – planes go everywhere these days.

Start off in Bangkok, and then take a train north to the ancient capital of Ayuthaya. Make a detour to the monkey town of Lopburi. From here, follow the culture trail north to Sukhothai, where you can cycle through the historic and crumbling ruins of another ancient capital. Hightail it to Chiang Mai, the ‘rose of the north’, and cycle around the old temples. Then switch back into the mountains to the party scene of Pai. Climb deeper into the hills to the Myanmar-influenced town of Mae Hong Son. Loop back to Chiang Mai.

By now the beach should be calling. Fly to the Gulf of Thailand and stop by Ko Samui for its resort-island trappings, Ko Pha-Ngan for beach bumming and partying, and Ko Tao for diving and snorkelling.

Next, get over to the Andaman Coast and its limestone mountains jutting out of the sea. Ko Phi-Phi is the prettiest, priciest and most party-fuelled of them all. Little Ko Jum holds tight to a fast-disappearing beach-shack, hippie vibe. the dive scene is the real attraction at gentrified Ko Lanta. Rock-climbers opt for mainland Krabi, particularly Railay.

If you’ve got the itch for more sand then continue down the peninsula to the Trang Islands, another collection of limestone sea mountains lapped by clear waters. Or opt for the idyllic islands offshore from Satun. There’s also emerging and midrange Ko Bulon Leh, rustic Ko Tarutao and laid-back Ko Lipe.

Or, you could skip the beaches south of Krabi and instead take a cultural antidote to the northeast, Thailand's agricultural heartland. Transit through Bangkok and then crawl through the jungles of Khao Yai National Park. From here, head to Nakhon Ratchasima (Khorat), a transit point for trips to the Angkor ruins at Phimai. Follow the Khmer trail east to Phanom Rung, the most important and visually impressive of the Angkor temples in Thailand. Surrounding Phanom Rung are a handful of smaller, more remote and forgotten temples with regal ambience.
Off the Beaten Track: Thailand

THA TON
Come to this remote-feeling riverside town for the scenic long-tail boat to Chiang Rai, but stay for hill-tribe trekking and frontier exploration. (p360)

PHAYAO
Break up your journey to Chiang Rai with a detour to this little-visited northern town. The mountain-framed lake provides sunset views and evening dining. (p230)

PHRAE
Reminiscent of Luang Prabang and Chiang Mai without the tourists (or the tourist infrastructure), this northern town is a wanderer’s best friend. Antique teak houses, tasty food and totally tout free. (p239)

BUENG KAN
This Mekong River town boasts Wat Phu Tok, which sits atop a sandstone outcrop accessed by a network of rickety staircases. (p395)

E-THONG
Snoozing in thick jungle on the border with Myanmar, this former tin-mining outpost is a village escape with a frontier feel. (p196)

PHU PHRABAT HISTORICAL PARK
A mysterious park of wild rock formations and spiritual remnants from ancient times. (p394)
KUIBURI NATIONAL PARK
Take a Thai safari for virtually guaranteed wild elephant encounters. (p508)

KO PHAYAM
A beach retreat for the resort-averse, Ko Phayam has fine sand, a range of accommodation and motorbike-friendly paths. Sand and sea without the distractions. (p600)

KO TARUTAO
Tarutao, part of a marine park, is so far south it is practically in Malaysia. But it is a top castaway contender with secluded alabaster beaches. (p695)

KO SUKORN
Ko Sukorn is a cultural paradise filled with tawny beaches and rubber plantations. It’s the perfect place to experience village life. (p690)

AO KHANOM
A pretty Gulf of Thailand bay with long beaches and regular visits from pink albino dolphins. It is a dreamy natural setting without much development. (p581)

UM PHANG
In Thailand’s western frontier, this mostly Karen village is surrounded by unspoilt wilderness, perfect for rafting, trekking and waterfall-spotting. (p279)

WRITER THANKS

Anita Isalska
Big thanks to everyone who helped me on my travels in Thailand. Gratitude to Sai and Anna for the warm welcome and insights into the wild west, to the Tourism Authority Thailand team in Kanchanaburi, and to Tim Brewer for helpful suggestions. I’d also like to thank the kids in Lopburi who helped this perplexed travel writer wriggle free from a prematurely locked temple ground. Thanks always to Normal Matt for crackly Skype calls and support.

Tim Bewer
A hearty körp jai lăi lăi dêu to the perpetually friendly people of Isan who rarely failed to live up to their reputation for friendliness and hospitality when faced with my incessant questions, in particular Prapaporn Sompakdee (especially for her crispy pork expertise) and Julian Wright. Special thanks to my wife Sutta-wan for everything.

Celeste Brash
Thanks to Chiang Mai University and my beloved professors; to Samui Steve, Iain Leonard, Frans Betgem, Lee at Akha Ama and Catherine Bodry. A huge hug to Janine Brown of the Smithsonian Conservation Biology Institute for passion and insight on a tricky subject; and my family – Josh, Jasmine and Tevai – who I wish could come with me on every trip.

Austin Bush
A big thanks to Destination Editors Dora Ball and Clifton Wilkinson, as well as to all the people on the ground in Bangkok and Northern Thailand.

David Eimer
Thanks to my fellow island writers and all the Lonely Planet crew in London. Thanks also to Alex and co for the nights out on Phuket. As ever, much gratitude to everyone I met on the road who passed on tips, whether knowingly or unwittingly.

Damian Harper
Huge thanks to the late Neil Bambridge, much gratitude for everything, may you rest in peace. Also thanks to Neil’s wife Ratchi, to Maurice Senseit, the jolly staff at Nira’s in Thong Sala, Piotr, Gemma, James Horton, George W, Celeste Brash and everyone else who helped along the way, in whatever fashion.
Andy Symington
A great number of people, from taxi drivers to information officers, gave me excellent advice and help along the way; I’m very grateful to all of them. Specific thanks go to Siriporn Chiangpoon, Ian on Ko Chang, Maitri in Si Racha, Chayanan in Chanthaburi and the friendly Ang Sila volunteers.

David Eimer
Phuket & the Andaman Coast David has been a journalist and writer ever since abandoning the idea of a law career in 1990. After spells working in his native London and in Los Angeles, he moved to Beijing in 2005, where he contributed to a variety of newspapers and magazines in the UK. Since then he has travelled and lived across China and in numerous cities in Southeast Asia, including Bangkok, Phnom Penh and Yangon. He has been covering China, Myanmar and Thailand for Lonely Planet since 2006.

Damian Harper
Ko Samui & the Lower Gulf With two degrees (one in modern and classical Chinese from SOAS University of London), Damian has been writing for Lonely Planet for more than two decades, contributing to titles on places as diverse as China, Vietnam, Thailand, Ireland, London, Mallorca, Malaysia, Singapore, Brunei, Hong Kong and the UK. A seasoned guidebook writer, Damian has penned articles for numerous newspapers and magazines, including The Guardian and The Daily Telegraph, and currently makes Surrey, England, his home. Follow Damian on Instagram (damian.harper).

Andy Symington
Ko Chang & the Eastern Seaboard Andy has written or worked on more than a hundred books and other updates for Lonely Planet (especially in Europe and Latin America) and other publishing companies, and has published articles on numerous subjects for a variety of newspapers, magazines and websites. He part-owns and operates a rock bar, has written a novel and is currently working on several fiction and non-fiction writing projects. Originally from Australia, Andy moved to northern Spain many years ago. When he’s not off with a backpack in some far-flung corner of the world, he can probably be found watching the tragically poor local football side or tasting local wines after a long walk in the nearby mountains.
OUR STORY
A beat-up old car, a few dollars in the pocket and a sense of adventure. In 1972 that’s all Tony and Maureen Wheeler needed for the trip of a lifetime – across Europe and Asia overland to Australia. It took several months, and at the end – broke but inspired – they sat at their kitchen table writing and stapling together their first travel guide, Across Asia on the Cheap. Within a week they’d sold 1500 copies. Lonely Planet was born. Today, Lonely Planet has offices in Franklin, London, Melbourne, Oakland, Dublin, Beijing and Delhi, with more than 600 staff and writers. We share Tony’s belief that ‘a great guidebook should do three things: inform, educate and amuse’.

OUR WRITERS

Anita Isalska
Curator; Central Thailand
Anita is a travel journalist, editor and copywriter whose work for Lonely Planet has taken her from Greek beach towns to Malaysian jungles, and plenty of places in between. After several merry years as an in-house editor and writer – with a few of them in Lonely Planet’s London office – Anita now works freelance between the UK, Australia and any Balkan guesthouse with a good wi-fi connection. Anita writes about travel, food and culture for a host of websites and magazines. Read her writing on www.anitaisalska.com.

Austin Bush
Bangkok; Northern Thailand
Austin originally came to Thailand in 1999 as part of a language study program hosted by Chiang Mai University. The lure of city life, employment and spicy food eventually led him to Bangkok. City life, employment and spicy food have managed to keep him there ever since.

Tim Bewer
Northeastern Thailand; Hua Hin & the Upper Gulf
After briefly holding fort behind a desk as a legislative assistant, Tim decided he didn’t have the ego to succeed in the political world (or the stomach to work around those who did). He quit his job at the capitol to backpack around West Africa, during which time he pondered what to do next. His answer was to write a travel guide to parks, forests, and wildlife areas of the gorgeous state of Wisconsin. He’s been a freelance travel writer and photographer ever since.

Celeste Brash
Chiang Mai Province
Like many California natives, Celeste now lives in Portland, Oregon. She arrived, however, after 15 years in French Polynesia, 18 months in Southeast Asia and a stint teaching English as a second language (in an American accent) in Brighton, England – among other things. She’s been writing guidebooks for Lonely Planet since 2005 and her travel articles have appeared in publications from BBC Travel to National Geographic.
