

Great Plains

THE STATES OF THE GREAT PLAINS ARE MORE THAN HAPPY TO TRANSITION YOU BETWEEN EAST AND WEST. But if you slow down for just a moment, they'll open the door, invite you in and share with you some of the country's finest history, scenery and adventure yarns. You'll hear stories of outlaws, pioneers and the likes of Geronimo, Crazy Horse and the Five Civilized Tribes, as well as the original explorer duo, Lewis and Clark.

All this, and we haven't mentioned Gateway Arch, Mt Rushmore or Scotts Bluff. One required stop? The prairie. Vaulting grasshoppers, scratchy blue stems, unabashed birdsong, the smell of cut grass – by tickling the senses, it reinvigorates the soul. Pull over, get out of the car, breathe deeply. We think you'll see what we mean.
